POLICE IN TWELFTH WARD GET EVIDENCE AT 17TH WARD CLUB

Policeman, After Becoming Member, "Sits In" for Raid at 2934 Olive Street to Get Proof of Gambling.

TELLS OF METHOD OF HIDING EVIDENCE

Players, at Flashing of Lights,
Put Dice and Money in Safe, He Says — 14 Men Arrested.

The twelfth police raid on the Seventeenth Ward Democratic Club, "Lawler" Daley's establishment at 2934 Olive street, was made at 9:30 o'clock last night, and 14 men were arrested on gambling charges. A fifteenth man, arrested with the others, was a policeman in plain clothes, and his testimony is expected to help the police make a case in court, which they have not been able to do after previous raids.

The special effort to get evidence against the Seventeenth Ward club is part of a campaign which has been begun by the Police Board and the Chief, to stop gambling in clubs, and to check also the carrying of concealed weapons by frequenters of these places. Lieut. Thomas A. Conley of the Carr street station is in charge of a squad engaged in this work, which supplements, but does not supersede, the regular gambling squad.

System of Concealing Evidence.
The system which has been used, in past raids, to conceal evidence of gambling, and which was again used last night, was described at the Laclede Avenue Station, after the arrests, by Patrolman Charles Burns, a former sailor, who became a member of the club in order to get evidence of gambling. "The system, as described by Burns, consisted of a lookout stationed in front of the club, a button which flashes a warning light in the upstairs room where the game is conducted, and a convenient safe, into which the gambling apparatus and the money are thrown, and which is thereupon locked."

Daley, who is chairman of the Executive Committee of the Democratic City Committee, and who was formerly chairman of the City Committee, gave the police a key to the club several months ago, telling them they were at liberty to look at any time as the place was a legitimate political club, and not a gambling establishment.

Tells of Seeing Dice Game.
When Patrolman Burns was assigned to get evidence of gambling at the Seventeenth Ward Club he was instructed to frequent saloons in the vicinity of the clubhouse, and to get acquainted with the club members. He did this, and played "rummy" in the saloons, with some of the men. He complained that the game was too tame, and was then invited to become a member of the club. He got his card last Friday night, and says he saw a dice game Friday night, and lost $11 in a game Saturday night.

The raid was arranged for last night, in case Burns should not telephone to the station that no game was going on. As no word came from Burns, a squad of policemen was sent to the club, and the lookout, seized in the first floor hallway, admitted the police to the second floor, the key provided by Daley not being at hand.

What Happened at Raid.
When the principal room upstairs was entered, 15 men were found sitting about a library table, with nothing to indicate that they had been doing anything more than to talk politics. After all were taken to the station, Burns was called by name, and stood forth with a sailor-like "Aye, aye, sir."

When asked to describe what happened when the police came, Burns said, "The lights flashed, and every body seemed to know just what to do. One man grabbed the farm horse of Ed Nelson at Irma, near here, early today. A sixth child was painfully burned."

Burns pointed out, as the men who he said ran the game, John Connors, 34 years old, 402 Olive street, a former member of the Legislature, Harry O'Brien, 35, of 2510 Olive, an inspector in the State pure food department, and Howard Little, 29, of 3206 Olive street. They are charged with being keepers of the game, the others simply with gambling. One of those arrested was James Carroll of 221 North Compton avenue, who was supposed by the police to be in charge of the game, but who Burns said appeared to be only a participant. The cases were set for Wednesday in police court.

F. D. Roosevelt to Speak Tonight at First Regiment Armory

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, Democratic nominee for the vice presidency, will speak at 8 o'clock tonight at a public meeting at the First Regiment Armory, Grand avenue and Market street.

This meeting will open the Democratic national campaign locally. It will be Roosevelt's first appearance in St. Louis in the campaign, although he was at Union Station this morning on his way to Cape Girardeau, where he spoke this afternoon. He will return to St. Louis shortly before tonight's meeting at the Armory.

Seats have been arranged for 2500 persons at the Armory. Gov. Gardner, it has been announced, will introduce Roosevelt at the meeting.

SOVIETS REPORTED IN FULL RETREAT ON ALL FRONTS

Dispatches From Finland Say Red
Armies, Suffering From Hunger and Cold, Are Crumbling Rapidly.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Press dispatches reaching Stockholm from Finland, according to the correspondent of the London Times, continue to represent that a state of great anxiety prevails in Soviet circles, claiming that the Red forces are in full retreat on both the Polish front and the Crimea, demoralized.

The Soviet Government has instituted forced contributions of clothing for the troops. The order says: "Let everyone who has two coats, two pair of boots, two fur caps give one and save the soldiers from perishing from cold."

Trotsky's efforts to recruit new forces in Siberia and the eastern provinces, the reports say, have failed, the peasants revolting against further recruitments.

MAGSWINEY LITTLE REFRESHED BY SEVERAL HOURS' SLEEP

Lord Mayor of Cork Reported Very Weary on Fifty-third Day of Hunger Strike.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, passed a fair night at Brixton Prison, having had several hours' sleep, but it does not seem to have refreshed him much, said a bulletin issued this morning by the Irish Self-Determination League.

Doctors do not find much change in the condition of the Lord Mayor, except that he is very weary, the bulletin adds. This is the fifty-third day of MacSwiney's hunger strike. A bulletin issued at the Home Office this forenoon stated that the Lord Mayor was not so well yesterday, but after some sleep last night appeared to be better this morning.

SCHIFF WILL MAKE BEQUESTS OF $1,350,000 TO CHARITY

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Charitable bequests totalling approximately $1,350,000 are made in the will of Jacob H. Schiff, banker and philanthropist, filed late today in the Surrogate's office.

The value of the estate is given merely as "more than $10,000 in real and personal property" in the accompanying petition.

Charitable bequests of Schiff include: Five hundred thousand dollars for the federation for the support of Jewish philanthropic societies of New York; $500,000 for the Montefiore Home; $150,000 for the Jewish Theological Society and $100,000 for the Hebrew Union College of Cincinnati. New York University receives $50,000, Harvard College $25,000 and Tuskegee Institute $10,000.

SOCIETY GIRL SHOT AND KILLED IN AUTO, FIANCE IS WOUNDED

Miss Florence Barton and Howard R. Winter of Kansas City Attacked When Driving in Suburbs at Night

ASSAILANT JUMPED ON RUNNING BOARD

Three Men in Car That Stopped Near Winter
Auto, and One First Asked
Direction to Lee's Summit.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 4.—Admitting they have few clues to work upon, the authorities today redoubled their efforts to find a man who is declared to have shot and killed Miss Florence Barton, a young society woman, and wounded Howard R. Winter, her fiance, while the couple were in a motor car on a lonely road near here about 11:30 o'clock Saturday night.

The only description the police have of the man is that furnished by Winter, who said he was about 30 years old, dressed in a brown suit, and wore a greasy cap, the visor of which was creased in the center.

According to Winter, the man, with two others in a motor car, approached Winter's car, an inclosed one, which he had stopped while lighting a cigar near Eighty-fifth street and Hickman Mills road. The man stepped out, asked the way to Lee's Summit, Mo., and then climbed upon the running board of their car. Winter said, with a revolver in his hand.

Expecting trouble, Winter said, he involuntarily raised his hand to his face and the man fired, wounding him in the left arm. Other shots followed, he said, one of which struck, Miss Barton, who was 24 years old, and the daughter of Kimbrell L. Barton, president of the McElwain-Barton Shoe Co.

After the men had fled in their car, Winter took Miss Barton to a nearby country residence, the owner of which drove them to Raytown, Mo., where Miss Barton was given medical attention by Dr. W. W. Hobbs. The physician diagnosed that she was removed to a sanitarium in Independence.

Relatives of the young couple said they were to have been married soon. Winter, who is 27 years of age, is employed in the office of his father, a local real estate dealer. He was not seriously wounded, physicians said.

Tried to Get Revolver.
Winter, in his story of the shooting, said that after he was shot, he remembered that there was a revolver in a pocket of one of the car.

More shots were fired by the stranger. Miss Barton cried out what she had been wounded. Winter says he then begged the man to stop shooting. The man agreed, but ordered him to turn off the lights of the car. The man then signaled his companions, who began turning their car around. The party then disappeared down the road, Winter said.

Winter is said to be prostrated. Powder marks were found by the police on Winter's clothing and the wound on his arm showed burns. An autopsy last night revealed that Miss Barton was shot just above the heart.

In Winter's car the police found a .45 caliber revolver with five loaded cartridges. Dr. J. S. Snider, County Coroner, announced last night that he had extracted two bullets from the woodwork of the motor car in which the couple were riding. They were of .38 caliber, Dr. Snider said. It also was announced that bullets taken from the body of Miss Barton and from Winter's arm were fired from a .38 caliber revolver.

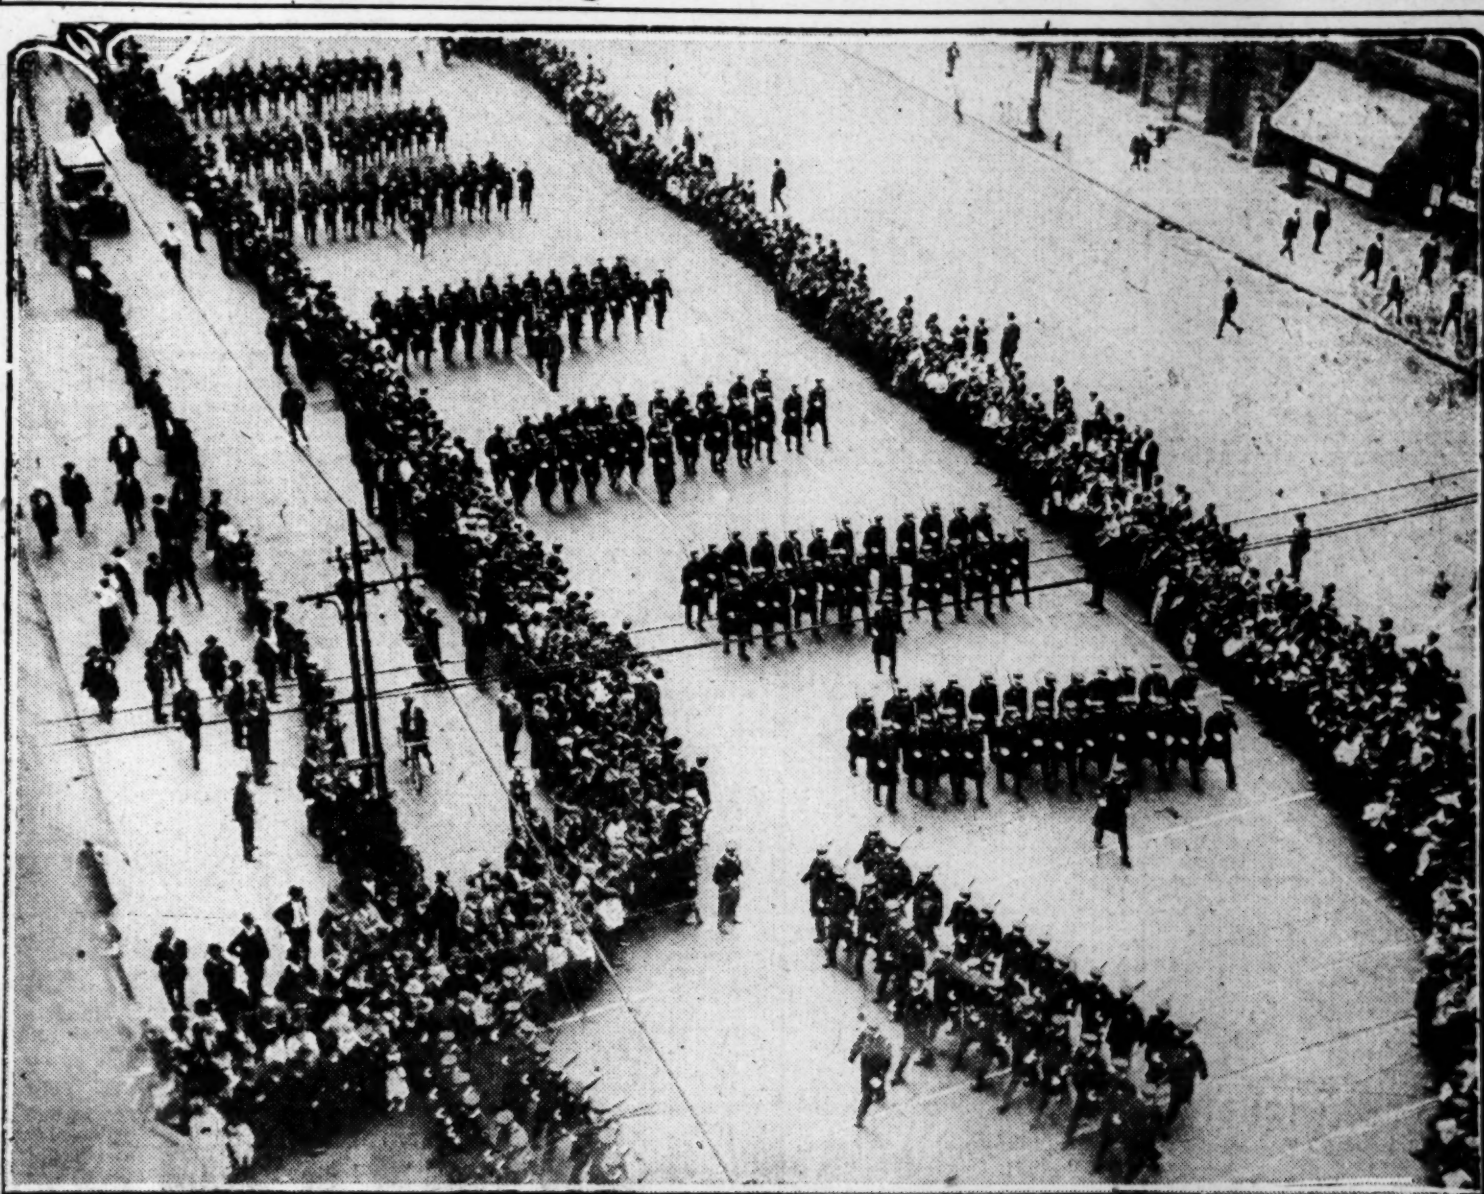

Similar to Simpson Case.
The murder of Miss Barton recalls the murder of Fitzroy K. Simpson, the night of July 22, 1919. Young Simpson was riding in a motor car with Miss Evelyn Hall on a Mississippi road when a man with a pistol ordered Simpson to alight and then shot, fatally wounding him. In the Simpson murder and that of Miss Barton there were similar incidents and parallel features. Little is known in the Simpson murder case, and the murder Saturday night theories of motives are based only on conjecture.

Sister and Brother of Miss Barton Leave Chicago for Kansas City.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Samuel Barton and Mrs. Pauline Griffiths of Evansville, brother and sister of Miss Florence Barton, who was mysteriously slain while automobile riding with Howard R. Winter, near Kansas City, late Saturday night, have left for that city to take charge of the case.

Morris said he had about three drinks of whiskey while Judge Garesche was visiting him. While preparing to take Judge Garesche home, he said, he backed and turned his automobile, not noticing that the Hempel machine was behind him. He said he would make good the damage to the Hempel machine, estimated at $200.

Presentations of Gold and Silver Decorations for Meritorious Service in Last Year Bring Applause From Noonday Crowd.

The St. Louis Police Department appeared as an armed military force in the annual police parade and review today, in which patrolmen carried riot guns of the "sawed-off shotgun" type. These guns have been the property of the department for 20 years, but they have not been carried in recent parades. They were used by the two Home Guard regiments in the war period.

About 1100 of the 1600 members of the department took part in the parade, which was viewed by a large noonday gathering along downtown streets, and the subsequent review in Twelfth street, where there were also many spectators. The fine appearance and bearing of the patrolmen and their officers were the subject of comment all along the line, and cheers and handclapping were almost continuous.

The review was followed by presentation of medals to 15 men, of whom 12 were uniformed policemen, the others being plain-clothes men, detectives and specials. This took place in front of the grandstand, which was on the west side of Twelfth street, north of Chestnut street. Gold, silver and bronze medals, with accompanying bars, to be worn on the outside of the blouse, were awarded in three classes—Distinguished Service, Meritorious Service, and Honorable Mention.

There was general applause when President Mansour of the Police Board, in presenting the medals, reached Patrolman Harry J. Shea. He shot and killed the lookout in the Tower Bank robbery, Jan. 21 last, and drove away the robbers, one of whom wounded him. The Police Board at that time voted Shea a gold medal, and therewith revived the custom of conferring medals in the department. The practice was stopped seven years ago, because of jealousies arising over the awards.

The march began from Twelfth and Olive streets promptly at noon, with Chief O'Brien and his staff, and five platoons of mounted policemen, leading. The Chief's staff consists of Assistant Chief Gillispy, Inspector Kirk, two battalions of patrolmen, and a platoon of mounted policemen. Gov. Gardner and President Mansour of the board rode in the first of a line of automobiles. Mayor Kiel and William A. Girardin, vice president of the board, in the next, and Commissioners Fouke and Sheehan in the next, followed by other department officials.

Zouaves in Bright Uniforms.
The police zouaves, in red, white and blue uniforms, and carrying sticks, were under command of Capt. Roemer, drummer, and Capt. Kirk. Two battalions of patrolmen and Sergeants followed, with their Captains and Lieutenants in command. The Sergeants and patrolmen carried the riot guns. Two bands were in this part of the line.

The traffic squad, in gray, was commanded by Sgt. Eilers. It marched in the formation of a square, in the center of which were the national colors.

The police armored car, with pre-trading gun barrel, moving from side to side, was followed by a machine gun squad of policemen. The department motorcycles, some of them with side car, came next. The cycles are built for speed, and the riders had difficulty in running them slowly enough to keep in their place behind the police infantry.

WISCONSIN G. O. P. CANDIDATE COMES OUT FOR DEMOCRAT
By the Associated Press.
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 4.—Refusing to support John J. Blaine, Republican nominee for Governor, William J. Morgan, Republican candidate for Attorney-General, came out today for Col. R. B. McCoy, Democratic gubernatorial nominee. Morgan issued a statement today that Blaine has repudiated the Republican party and allied himself with the Nonpartisan League. Morgan fought the Nonpartisan League before the primary.

DRUNKENNESS CHARGE AGAINST JUDGE DROPPED

Garesche, Arrested After Auto
Mishap, Says Doctor Gave Him Whisky and Strychnine.

Judge Vital W. Garesche of the St. Louis Circuit Court was arrested yesterday afternoon and after being held a prisoner at the Page boulevard station more than two hours, was released on a $200 bond to appear in police court on a charge of being drunk on the street.

The arrest was made at 1:30 p. m. in front of 6149 Washington boulevard after an automobile in which Judge Garesche was riding with Lon F. Morris of 6143 Washington avenue, president of the Cremo-line Disinfecting Co., had backed into an automobile owned by Chas. Hempel of 6152 Washington boulevard, and damaged it. Morris told policemen they were on their way to Judge Garesche's home at 6121 Westminster place.

Case Is Dismissed.
After being held two and one-half hours at the Page Boulevard Station, Judge Garesche was released on bond. Though this bond was returnable in police court tomorrow, the case was called on the docket today and was dismissed for want of prosecution. A charge of careless driving against Morris was continued until tomorrow. Judge Garesche was not in court. The case against him was dismissed by Provisional Judge Matthews on recommendation of Assistant City Counselor Newton, the court prosecutor.

Judge Garesche, who was on duty in his court today, said he was not intoxicated, but was suffering from the effects of strychnine and whiskey which a physician had given to him at the Morris home in treatment of heart trouble.

He said he called at the Morris home about 10 a. m. yesterday and while there had a heart attack of such severity that Dr. J. P. Ghio was called in. The physician, he said, administered strychnine as a stimulant, and then gave him a drink of whiskey and told him to rest about three hours. When he thought he was sufficiently rested, he said, he left the Morris home, but collapsed when he reached the side walk. Morris, he said, was preparing to take him to his home when policemen arrived.

Morris said he had about three drinks of whiskey while Judge Garesche was visiting him. While preparing to take Judge Garesche home, he said, he backed and turned his automobile, not noticing that the Hempel machine was behind him. He said he would make good the damage to the Hempel machine, estimated at $200.

SPECIAL STREET CAR SERVICE FOR VEILED PROPHET CROWDS

Grand, Olive, Broadway and Page
Lines to Run on Regular Schedule Until 2 A. M.

The United Railways Co. today announced special service on all lines tomorrow night to handle the Veiled Prophet crowds. The Grand, Olive, Broadway and Page lines will be run on regular space schedule until 2 a. m. All other lines will be run on 10-minute schedule until 2 a. m.

After 6:30 p. m., to prevent congestion on Washington avenue, the Page cars will be routed over Seventh street to Franklin avenue, west to Fourteenth street, north to the Hodiamont tracks on Wash street, west to Vandeventer and north to Finney avenue, where the Page line regular route will be resumed. The Compton and Park line cars will be run regularly until stopped by the parade.

Special suburban service will be provided. Extra Kirkwood-Ferguson cars for Kirkwood and for Ferguson and Florissant, will leave Wellston at 1 a. m. A Creve Coeur line special will leave Delmar Garden at 1 a. m. A special Manchester car will leave Fourth and Market streets at 1 a. m., and a special Midland car will start from the junction with the Page line at the same hour. Extra cars for St. Charles will start from Wellston at 12:30 a. m.

MAN DIES FROM FRACTURED SKULL AFTER FALL ON STREET

Companion, Questioned by Police,
Says He Slipped When Getting
Out of Automobile.

Joseph A. Brazazon, 35 years old, of 4537 Lewis place, described by members of his family as a retired business man, died at 6 a. m. today at Josephine Hospital, Grand avenue and Henrietta street, of a fractured skull, suffered, the police were told, when he slipped and fell when getting out of an automobile at Fourteenth and Pine streets at 8 o'clock last night.

His companion, James Cavanaugh, a chauffeur, of 2626 Franklin avenue, was released after being questioned today by the police. He said he and Brazazon had been riding around, and stopped to get some cigarettes. Brazazon slipped, his head striking the curb, he said. He never regained consciousness. A brother of Brazazon told the police that his brother and Cavanaugh were good friends.

Says Women's Vote Is Illegal.

By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 4.—Charging his defeat to the account of woman suffrage, Robert E. Burke of Chicago, defeated by Peter A. Walker of Keaweenaw, for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator, at noon today filed a certificate of contest with the Secretary of State. He declares his defeat was brought about by the "illegal voters of the female sex."

MELSHEIMER'S CAFES TEMPORARILY CLOSED

Strike of Waiters and Cooks Affecting Many Places That Give Dinner Dances.

Customers of cafes that specialize in dinner dances are finding it increasingly difficult to obtain that form of diversion as several of the establishments, following the walk-out of union cooks, waiters and beverage dispensers last Friday in response to a declaration of open shop policy by the associated hotel and restaurant owners, have closed their doors.

Melsheimer's today announced that their places at 509 North Ninth street and 309 Pine street would undergo painting and redecorating, and that "due notice of date of reopening will be published."

Bevo Mill, Mission Inn and Clarendon's shut down last week, the owner of the latter place announcing that he had retired from business. Sunset Hill Country Club has canceled entertainments calling for dining-room service.

Hotel Statler today re-opened its main dining room, which had been closed since the walk-out, and also established a cafeteria service in an adjoining room. The management announced that service would be increased as rapidly as additional help could be obtained. At the Jefferson and Planters, it was said that sufficient non-union help had been obtained to warrant the assumption that normal service would be resumed during the day.

Picketing was begun today by the strikers in front of the hotels, 42 restaurants and five clubs affected by the open shop plan. It was announced by members of the local Joint Executive Board of the five striking unions that cards listing eating places that are being operated on the closed shop basis would be distributed near the entrances of open shop places.

Louis Bock, who a year ago quit as head waiter at Hotel Jefferson to invest his savings in and assume the management of the Washington Hotel, will cook supper for 300 persons tomorrow night after the Veiled Prophet parade. There will be dancing. Bock says he has been doing the cooking at his hotel since Friday, when his six waiters walked out. His crew of negro waiters is still at work.

The Century Boat Club, upon request of club members, who have had their reservations canceled at the various hotels, because of the waiters' walkout, has authorized music and dancing at the club tomorrow from 10 p. m. to 2 a. m. Guests will be permitted.

TRUCK LOAD OF REAL BEER WAYLaid BY EAST SIDE AGENT

Mascoutah Product, Being Hauled to Stolberg's Lake,
Seized by Dry Officer.

St. Louisans, who went to Stolberg's Lake, near Belleville, Sunday, expecting real beer, were disappointed. A truck load of the product of the Mascoutah Brewing Co., en route to Stolberg's, was intercepted Saturday night by G. S. Young, a prohibition enforcement agent, and diverted to enforcement headquarters at East St. Louis.

The driver, Irvin W. Moehlenkamp, was released on his own recognizance after he had made affidavits that the 10 half-barrels of beer on this truck contained more than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol, and that it was consigned to Stolberg's. He is said to have admitted delivering beer of like unlawful intensity to other places.

The Mascoutah Brewing Co. has been under surveillance of enforcement agents for some time. Automobiles from St. Louis have been driving over there and carrying cases away. Chief Enforcement Officer Kigin of East St. Louis said he would not decide what action to take until the beer had been analyzed and he had consulted with the District Attorney.

PRESIDENT WILSON RECEIVES SUPREME COURT JUSTICES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—For the first time since 1913, President Wilson received today the Justices of the United States Supreme Court, who called to pay their respects. The court convened at noon, after its summer recess, and immediately adjourned until tomorrow, so the Justices might visit the White House.

The annual visit to the President was omitted last year because of Mr. Wilson's illness.

President Wilson received Chief Justice White and the other members of the court, who were accompanied by Attorney-General Palmer and Solicitor-General Trierstein, in the blue room. The reception lasted only a few minutes.

COX AND RUNNING MATE BOTH HERE WITHIN 24 HOURS

Governor Welcomed at Union Station Sunday
Morning When on Way
Home From Western Tour

ROOSEVELT TO SPEAK AT ARMORY TONIGHT

Vice Presidential Nominee to Return After an Address at Cape Girardeau This Afternoon.

The Democratic standard bearer, Gov. Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt, have been in St. Louis within the last 24 hours, and Roosevelt will return here tonight for an address at 8 o'clock at the First Regiment Armory, Grand avenue and Market street.

Gov. Cox arrived at 8:24 a. m. yesterday from Kansas City, where Saturday night he closed his Western campaign with one of the largest audiences of the more than 200 which heard him on the trip of more than 10,000 miles. He was welcomed at Union Station by a representative crowd of St. Louis Democrats, men and women, and departed at 8:44 a. m. for Dayton, his home, which he reached last night.

Roosevelt, who campaigned in Kentucky last week, met Gov. Cox at Terre Haute, Ind., at noon yesterday and accompanied him as far as Indianapolis. He left Gov. Cox at Indianapolis, and returned to Terre Haute, where he rejoined his party, which includes Mrs. Roosevelt, and came on to St. Louis, arriving about 1:30 p. m. The private car in which Roosevelt is making his tour was attached to a Frisco passenger train which departed for Cape Girardeau at 7:45 a. m. Breckinridge Long, Democratic nominee for United States senator, joined the party here and will speak with Roosevelt at Cape Girardeau this afternoon.

Cox, who arrived in St. Louis yesterday morning, and the crowd which has turned out to welcome the candidates moved into the train which has its respect to him. Ambassador David R. Francis and former Governor Lon V. Stephens were in the group, as was Breckinridge Long and the members of the men's and women's city committees of St. Louis, as well as most of the campaign directors from State headquarters here.

The nominee did not take time to dress completely, but had on a long dressing robe resembling an overcoat when he came out on the back platform. He was greeted with cheers, and an enthusiastic "Hurrah for Jimmie Cox," which brought a wave of Gov. Cox who bowed a "Good morning" to the gathering.

After Gov. Cox had shaken hands with a large number of persons, Ambassador Francis, Stephens, Long, Lieutenant-Governor Crossley and a few other Democrats climbed on the back platform and talked with the nominee while photographers were "shooting" him.

Pleased With Reception.
He told the Missourians that he had "wonderful meetings throughout the West," referring especially to his Joplin and Kansas City crowds, adding that "I am greatly pleased with my reception in this State. The fight is won, but I shall not relax my campaign."

Just before his train pulled out Gov. Cox said to the crowd, "To do more than express my appreciation for your coming here this morning would be an impropriety on the Sabbath."

A flag was hung on the rear of the car by Mrs. James F. Downey of 1433 Pestalozzi street, and Mrs. Estelle Philbert of 4141 Scanlan avenue. Gov. Cox thanked them with "that's very sweet of you."

Gov. Cox will return here next Monday for a night meeting at the Coliseum.

Newspaper men who sought interviews with Roosevelt this morning were told that he, like Cox on the previous morning, was asleep. He was awakened in time, however, to appear with an overcoat buttoned up around his neck, to be photographed as the train pulled out.

Roosevelt in a prepared statement, given out by his secretary, said that with the ninth week of the campaign opening, the peak of Republican strength had been reached and passed and that support for the Democratic ticket now is gathering the momentum which would sweep Cox into the presidency next month.

"The outstanding feature of the past week," he said, "has been the raising of the interest of women voters in the campaign, especially in those States where they have not had the franchise before. I believe that up to a short time ago the organizers and speakers in both parties have met with little response from the rank and file of the women. But a sudden change has made itself evident to me, not only in the States where I have been, but also in the reports coming to me from many other places."

Women Taking Stand.
"Up to now, most of the women have been reading and listening with open minds. They have not expressed their opinions, and they have met with little response from party organizations. So, too, they have given little evidence of follow-

President Wilson Appeals to Voters to Uphold the League of Nations at Polls

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—President Wilson gave out today his first direct campaign appeal to the public, in which he urges endorsement at the polls next month of the administration's stand on the League of Nations. The text of the appeal follows:

My fellow countrymen,
The issues of the present campaign are of such tremendous importance and of such far-reaching significance for the influence of the country and the development of its future relations, and I have necessarily had so much to do with their development, that I am sure you will think it natural and proper that I should address to you a few words concerning them.

Everyone who sincerely believes in government by the people must rejoice at the turn affairs have taken in regard to this campaign. This election is to be a genuine national referendum. The determination of a great policy upon which the influence and authority of the United States in the world must depend is not to be left to groups of politicians of either party, but is to be referred to the people themselves for a sovereign mandate to their representatives. They are to instruct their own Government what they wish done.

The chief question that is put to you is, of course, this: Do you want your country's honor vindicated and the treaty of Versailles ratified? Do you in particular approve of the League of Nations as organized and empowered in that treaty? And do you wish to see the United States play its responsible part in it?

You have been grossly misled with regard to the treaty, and particularly with regard to the proposition of the League of Nations, which has been assumed the serious responsibility of opposing it. They have said so far that they have spent my life in familiarizing themselves with the history and traditions and policies of the Democratic party, and that they have spent my life in familiarizing themselves with the history and traditions and policies of the Democratic party, and that they have spent my life in familiarizing themselves with the history and traditions and policies of the Democratic party.

Recent Process Reversed.
Americanism, as they conceive it, reverses the whole process of the last few fractional years. It would substitute America for Prussia in the policy of isolation and defiant segregation. Their conception of the dignity of the nation and its interest is that we should stand apart and watch for opportunities to advance our own interests, to the exclusion of the interests of the world.

ing their husbands or brothers with blind obedience. Frankly most of them are not yet ready for the avoiding of great issues by taking refuge behind fine words. "I am tremendously heartened, not merely as a candidate, but more broadly as an American, in the way the women are now surging forward, giving every evidence they will not only vote, but will furnish a tremendous surprise on election day. Hundreds have come to me to tell me that they recognize in the League of Nations the super-question before the country. I venture to say that a majority of these women have Republican sympathies, but they, as well as women of Democratic families, regret that the League has ever come into party politics."

League Appeals to Women.
"They sense the important distinction that, in view of the split in the Republican party, to vote for Harding was to vote against the League. Gov. Cox told me that he had found the same tremendous swing in the West in the past 10 days. It is the moral side, the great Christian purpose of the League, it is the fact that all of the great nations except the United States are today in the League, or about to go in, that appeals to women of all parties and that has caused them to wake up and think to culminate in open advocacy and active support of the clear position taken by Gov. Cox and myself. They are very truly putting the League first, seeking to restore the United States to our position of moral leadership and usefulness among nations."

Chairman George White of the Democratic National Committee, Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the review stand began. The Zouaves came first, and their smart appearance brought applause.

The companies of policemen in platform formation, were drilled and the manual of arms, snapping the triggers of their riot guns as a salute to the reviewing officers.

A way was cleared for the motor cycles, and they sped past the stand at a speed estimated at 45 miles an hour, the occupants of side cars firing riot guns as a salute. These guns contained blank cartridges. The mounted police executed maneuvers, followed by the armored car.

The entire line then passed the review stand, this constituting the actual review by the Governor and department officers. The platform and company yielded saluted the Governor, and he and others in the stand returned the salute.

At Twelfth and Market, the place of disembarkment, there was a rush for patrol wagons returning to the various stations. Policemen who could not get seats in the wagons took street cars to the stations or their homes.

9 STATES WEST OF MISSISSIPPI SEEM CERTAIN FOR COX

Observer Finds Present Outlook Is for Little More Than Half Electoral Vote Wilson Got in 1916.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

(This is the first of a series of three articles applying political conditions west of the Mississippi, and is based on a personal visit to 15 states, including 25 of the most important cities, during the last 30 days.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Senator Harding, Republican candidate for the presidency, has a fairly tight hold on the electoral vote west of the Mississippi, but by no means one that could not have been loosened by effective organization and a more friendly to the Democratic cause.

The writer saw the West at a time of lowest ebb for the Democrats and highest tide for the Republicans. The month of October will see the Democrats struggling desperately to live in a month the work the Republicans have accomplished in nearly two years of campaigning.

By Will Hays began in March, 1918—about eight months before the war ended—and has established probably the most complete and effective political organization in the history of the United States.

He was taken to task by Col. Harvey for starting his career in the middle of the war, and he has done the job, and Republican victory will be as much due to the Republican organization as it was to the restrictive conditions of the war which have made Republicans out of Democrats.

West and the War.
To understand why the majority of the Western States will go Republican one must revert to the 1916 campaign. The West didn't like war and voted to be kept out of it. Once entered into the fray, the West contributed brave soldiers and all its money and crops to win. But it didn't desire any affection for war, or for the conditions which it had created.

Being more anxious for Republican victory because of domestic issues like taxation, the tariff and other matters closer home, the newspapers friendly even to the League are submerging the controversy of the League. America is to enter and convincing their readers that Senator Harding will do the right thing at the right time.

Wilson Pleas Fails.
Except in a few States, President Wilson's plea for a solemn referendum on the election has signally failed. The mandate of the election will not be a repudiation of the covenant or any other part of the peace treaty. Groups here and there will vote on foreign subjects, such as Irish freedom or Italian war aspirations, but generally speaking Republican victory will mean a desire to change from one set of political leaders to another.

Republican newspapers friendly to the League are already preparing their readers for that verdict, and trying to prevent Senator Harding from misconstruing the verdict by deciding to stay out of the League of Nations.

The Republican press in the West, outnumbers the Democrats at least two to one, and in some states four and five to one. The pro-League press is about evenly divided among the Republican press, but you can count on the fingers of your hand the Republican newspapers that favor even the Wilson League who have dared to make that the paramount consideration and tell their readers that they ought to vote for Cox on that account.

Lack of Enthusiasm.
The most striking thing about the whole Western campaign is the utter lack of enthusiasm by Democrats or Republicans of either nominee as reflected in the press.

Both men were unknown, but to be sure, before the two conventions. But the real reason in my own judgment why neither Cox nor Harding have captured the popular imagination is that they have failed to point out clearly a reconstruction policy. They have both been more interested in the politics of their campaigns than in the reconstruction of the country.

The one has carried on a destructive campaign of criticism and the other has expressed himself in such generalities as to evoke no particular hostility from any group or class. But

DETECTIVE SLAIN IN FIGHT WITH ROBBERS IN GAMBLING HOUSE

Philadelphia Police, Making
Raid, Run Into Holdup—
$10,000 on Table.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—One man was killed and five others wounded in a three-cornered fight here yesterday between police, alleged gamblers and a gang of robbers, whom the police found holding up the gamblers when they went to raid the place. One of the injured, physicians said last night, would live. Half a dozen persons were arrested and held as witnesses.

When the police entered they found a dozen men backed up against the wall, hands in the air, looking into the muzzles of pistols of four masked men. Two other robbers were going through their pockets and stacking their money and jewelry on a table. "Handed up!" shouted Lieut. Graham, who headed the police squad. Immediately the lights went out. Scores of shots were exchanged and clubs were used.

When the lights were turned on the police found Joseph McGinn, a detective, mortally wounded and five other men badly hurt. McGinn later died. More than $10,000 was found on the table.

POLES CARRY ON WAR AND PEACE MOVES IN SAME OFFICE

WARSAW, Oct. 4.—War and peace plans progressed simultaneously yesterday under the same roof in recently reconquered Polish territory where Gen. Pilsudski, head of the state, has established his temporary headquarters.

In one room of the house where the General is domiciled plans were laid for continuing pursuit of the de-facto Soviet troops on the northern front. The Soviet forces are retreating in disorder. In another room civilian representatives of the Government were received by the chief of staff, who is now in the city. The chief of staff is now in the city. The chief of staff is now in the city. The chief of staff is now in the city.

Medals Presented to 38 Policemen After Parade

Honors for Heroic and Efficient Police Work in Last Year—Gold Decoration for Patrolman Harry J. Shea.

Thirty-eight members of the Police Department received medals at the reviewing stand in Twelfth street at the termination of the parade today. These were of gold, silver and bronze and were awarded to those who in the last year won recognition for heroic or efficient police work.

The gold medals were called from the line and the tokens were pinned on their coats by the commissioners, headed by President Charles W. Mansour, in the presence of Gov. Gardner.

Chief of Police O'Brien and Chief of Detectives Hannegan were the first to be decorated. Each received a gold medal. The gold medals were bestowed on Chiefs O'Brien and Hannegan for general efficiency in handling their respective departments, and for the fine example, both having led the way personally in many important cases in one of which Chief O'Brien was shot, Oct. 18, last.

President Mansour, just before the parade, explained that the board was in receipt of communications from outside cities, demonstrating to the Commissioners that the St. Louis Police Department and its heads have been brought to a high standard of efficiency under the leadership of the two chiefs, as compared with other cities in the country. He also explained that the medals were bestowed by the Commissioners, not on solicitation of the men themselves, but for merit as revealed in their work.

Brief summaries of the work for which the medals were awarded in each case follow:
Detective O'Brien and Patrolman Vallery engaged in a running pistol fight with the three robbers who attempted to hold up the Morame Trust Co. in which Lieut. William Smith and Patrolman Thomas Ward were shot and fatally wounded, capturing the robbers.

TRANSIT NEED NOW DEROUTING OF CARS, COMMISSION SAYS

Subway and Elevated Lines
Could Wait, Is Finding of Plan Body, in Report After Study.

SUBMITS PLAN FOR
'NEXT 10 TO 25 YEARS'

Subway Loop Would Be Used to Relieve Congestion Downtown—No Suggestions to Meet Cost.

The City Plan Commission today made public its report on the transit system of St. Louis, with reference to future needs in rapid transit, and present requirements for rerouting of cars.

The report covers the same ground as did the report of C. E. Smith, chief engineer for the Department of Public Utilities, which was outlined in yesterday's Post-Dispatch, except that the commission does not deal with the financial side of the problem. Reference is made by the commission to Smith's plan for financing a rapid transit system by adding one cent to the present 7-cent fare, and turning the money over to the city for the payment of the bonded debt, which would be assumed. The commission does not discuss this plan, "believing that the physical plan should first be considered."

The commission's plan is not the same in detail as that of Engineer Smith. It outlines a rapid transit system with fewer lines than Smith's proposal, and with a downtown subway loop. It goes into greater detail than Smith as to the altering of present routes. Rapid transit, it is declared, is a future need, not a present one.

Rerouting Planned First.

On this topic, the commission's report says:

"The problems of the immediate future for the improvement of transit facilities of St. Louis are:

- (1) Relief of the congestion in the business district.
- (2) More direct routings to all parts of the city.

"St. Louis does not now need rapid transit. The suggestion for the improvement of the present system, contained later in this report, will so improve present facilities that the city may grow without serious inconvenience for a period of at least 10 years. There is not now a sufficiently great movement of people in any one direction to warrant the establishment of rapid transit facilities, and neither the city nor the present company is in a position at the present time to undertake the financing of rapid transit facilities. Our studies of the traffic movement indicate that it would not be possible to construct rapid transit facilities which would be a justifiable financial adventure. Furthermore, the construction of a system of rapid transit now would be a positive detriment to the growth of the city, particularly when it is considered that such rapid transit facilities would tend still further to encourage the shift of population to the outer suburban districts and consequently would lessen still more the usefulness and value of the intermediate areas. On the other hand, the increasing of their usefulness and value is one of St. Louis' greatest problems today. St. Louis is a sprawling city and needs a greater intensity of development within the intermediate central areas of the city before rapid transit facilities will be justified.

In anticipation of the time when rapid transit facilities will be needed and in order to relieve one of the more acute transit conditions which exist today, namely that of street congestion in the business district, it is recommended that a subway be constructed within the business district for the accommodation and use of all the east and west trolley lines, which subway can be so constructed and so designed as later to form a part of a comprehensive subway system for rapid transit purposes.

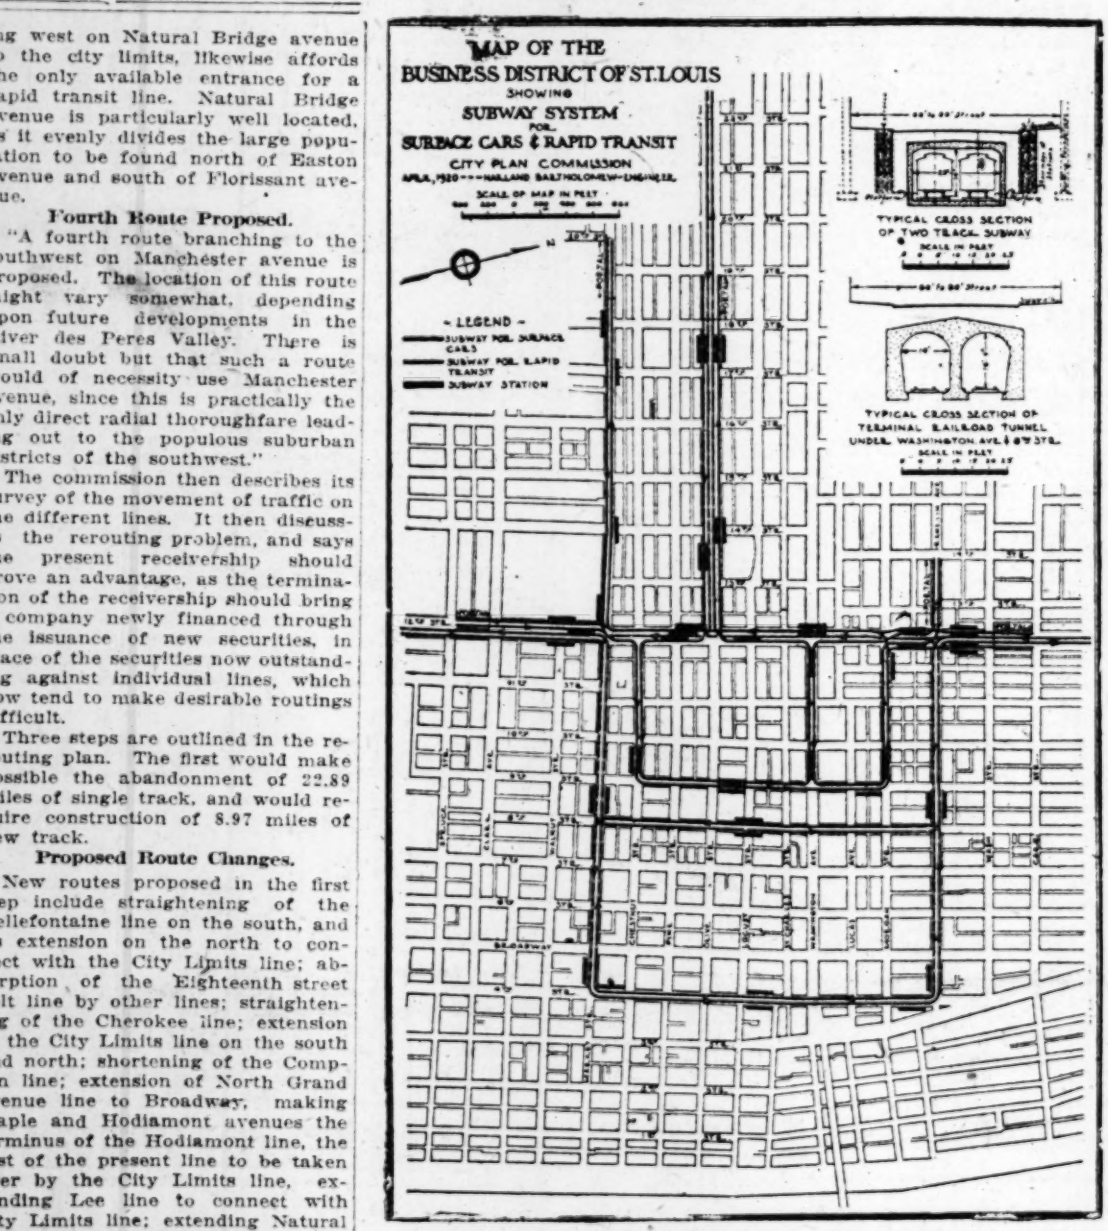

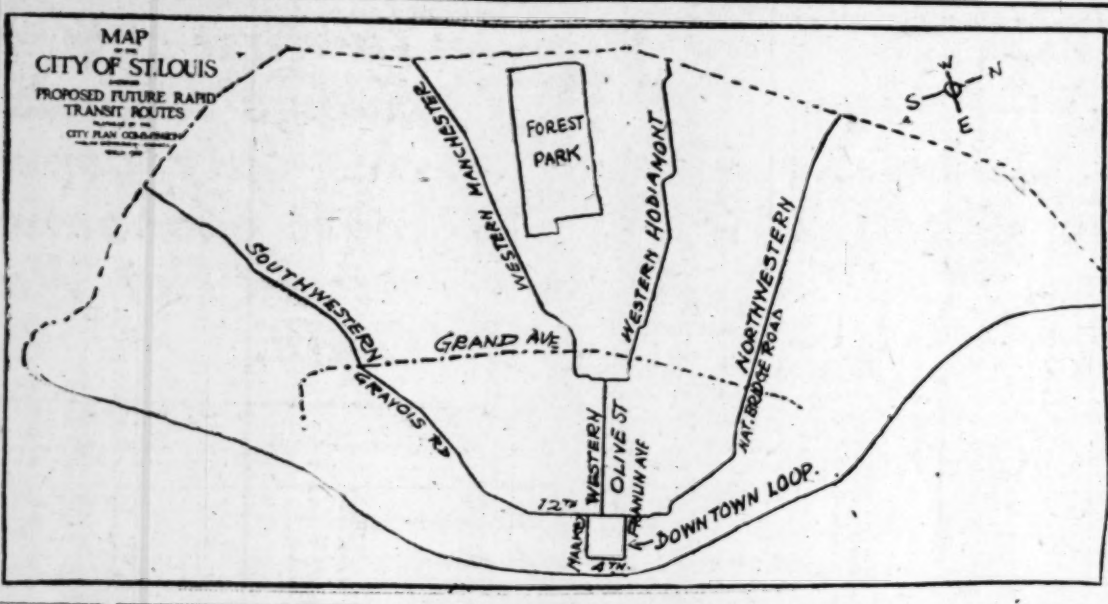

Natural Lines of Traffic.

"A study of distribution of population in St. Louis indicates quite clearly that the future location of rapid transit lines is very nearly fixed. It is evident, for instance, that because of the preponderance of traffic in a westerly direction the first rapid transit line should be built to the west. The Hodiamont right-of-way seems to be particularly adapted to the use of such a line, dividing as it does the large population between Lindell boulevard and Easton avenue. East of Grand avenue this rapid transit line will use the widest street available. Washington avenue today is the only street having a width of over 60 feet, itself being but 80 feet wide. When Olive street is widened to 100 feet, for which an ordinance has recently been passed, it will become the natural route for such a line, affording a particularly strategic entrance into the business district.

"To the south, Gravois avenue is the only available and direct radial street. It practically bisects the tremendous population in the southern part of the city. When widened to 140 feet east of Grand avenue, as proposed, it will form the only practical location for a rapid transit line southward.

"On the north, the proposed new North Twelfth street route, by turncheyership should come a reorganized transit company willing and capable to meet the city's needs, and this plan, prepared primarily to meet these needs, should form a basis of agreement between the city and the company for future co-operation in obtaining the best service possible."

The report is signed by E. J. Russell, chairman of the commission; Harland Bartholomew, engineer of the commission; A. S. Langsdorf, vice chairman, and the following members: President Aloe of the Board of Aldermen, President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service, Street Director Talbert, Park Commissioner Pace, Safety Director McKelvey, Nelson Cuniff, Dr. W. Man's Body Found on Pleasant Hill Road; Robbery Apparent.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 4.—The body of a well-dressed man, apparently about 50 years old, was found in a ditch beside the Pleasant Hill road, nine miles southeast of Lees Summit, late last night, by George I. Hilders, a farmer. The body is believed to be that of R. L. Giles, a Kansas City oil man.

The skull had been crushed and a hole evidently made by a bullet was found in the back of the head by Dr. J. S. Snyder, Deputy Coroner. The pockets in the clothing had been emptied of any valuables and several of them turned inside out. The body evidently had been lying in the ditch for about a week, Dr. Snyder said.

A pair of gold cuff links bore the initials "R. L. G." The gold band on a fountain pen had similar initials engraved upon it. A receipt from the American Express Co. at St. Louis indicated that A. R. Giles had expressed a trunk from St. Louis to Kansas City Sept. 17. The trunk was valued at $300. Three keys and a small note book were found in the pockets.

The Pleasant Hill road is a continuation of the road on which Miss Barton, a Kansas City society girl, was killed Saturday night by robbers.

ROBBERS MAKE DRUG CLERK OPEN SAFE, GET $584

Employee in Store at 4701
St. Louis Avenue Tells of Trio in Auto Holding Up
Him and Friend.

William H. Meyer, 19 years old, of 1902 Cora place, clerk at the drug store of Samuel G. Becker, 4701 St. Louis avenue, told the police that when he was closing up at 10:45 o'clock last night, three men drove up in an automobile and drew revolvers and compelled him and his friend, Kenneth Kilknerbauer, 22, of 4005 Lexington avenue, to go back into the store.

While two kept him and Kilknerbauer covered, he said, the third took $20 from the cash register. They ordered him to open the safe, he says. He said he did not know the combination but when they threatened to kill him, he opened it. It contained $537, which was taken. From Meyer they took $7 and from Kilknerbauer $20 and his watch.

Meyer told the robbers, he says, that his week's salary of $25 was included in the amount in the safe and begged them to return that to him, and that he did so. After that, Meyer told the robbers, he tried to identify them, Meyer says, the robbers locked him and Kilknerbauer in a rear room and departed.

At 2:30 p. m., someone called the police on the telephone and said there were robbers at the Piggly Wiggly store, 601 Kingsbury boulevard. Two motor cycle policemen were sent. A man ran through the rear yard and jumped into the bed of the River des Peres. One shot was fired at him. He was not found. The safe was found to have been "soaped" and a funnel placed for pouring nitroglycerin.

When the telephone rang at 4 p. m., the Standard Oil office at Vandeventer avenue and West Pine boulevard, Arnold B. Jewell, 1611 Semple avenue, who was in charge, was told that Manager E. J. Wighel was speaking. He was told that the man in charge of the station at De Baliviere avenue and Westminster place was sick and was ordered to go there and relieve him when another man arrived to relieve Jewell. When the other man came along Jewell turned over $200 to him and unlocked the safe, containing another $200. He found the other man was speaking. He returned and found the man and money gone. Manager Wighel had not telephoned.

Safe at Dairy Opened.

Burglars during the night opened a safe at 4509 Red Bud avenue, at home, and carried an iron safe weighing 300 pounds from a second-floor bedroom to the rear door and placed it in a rear automobile. The safe was opened and the contents, valued at $340 and a pistol. Neighbors saw the three men.

Charles, of injuries suffered at 12:15 a. m., when he was thrown from a freight train by two negroes who had previously robbed him. Genschey's left leg had been amputated at the knee and he had suffered injuries to his back.

He was found at 3 a. m. by farmers who heard his cries. The farmers notified physicians and Sheriff Grothe of St. Charles. At the hospital he told the Sheriff he had boarded the train, a Buflington freight bound for St. Louis at Hannibal. About 20 miles northwest of St. Charles two negroes, who were riding in the box car with him, robbed him of $40 and his shoes. They then threw him from the car, the suction of the train drawing him under the wheels.

TWO DEATHS FROM WOOD ALCOHOL SINCE THURSDAY

In Same Period 43 Alcoholic Patients Have Been Received at City Hospital.

There have been two deaths from wood alcohol at the city hospital since Thursday midnight and in the same time 43 alcoholic patients have been received. From midnight Saturday to last midnight 25 patients suffering from alcoholism have been received. Hospital attendants say this is a record for any 24-hour period since prohibition. Forty-two of the patients treated since Thursday were men and one a woman.

The two patients who died of wood alcohol poisoning were unable to tell where they got the poison. One, who died Friday, was unidentified. The other was James Cooney, 50 years old, of 805 South Vandeventer avenue. He was brought in at 7 a. m. yesterday and died at 2:55 p. m. Joe Davis, 38 years old, of 1017 Chestnut street, was taken to the hospital yesterday suffering from wood alcohol poisoning. He is expected to recover.

Informers Arrives in New York to Tell His Story.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Leon Konkel, a steamfitter, the man who gave the Pittsburgh authorities the information which led to the arrest here last night of Max Baer, Zerkow in Brooklyn in connection with the Wall street bomb explosion, arrived here today from Pittsburgh, to tell his story to the Federal authorities.

GIRL, 8, FATALLY HURT WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO IN COUNTY

Her Father Is Injured Severely—Coroner Says There Is No Bell at Crossing.

Esther Boenker, 8 years old, died last night at Barnes Hospital, and her father, Edward Boenker, 35, is suffering there from skull fracture, the result of a grade crossing accident yesterday morning at McKelvey road and Rock Island tracks, St. Louis County, where, Coroner Denny said, there is no bell to warn persons of approaching trains.

Boenker, his wife, Mrs. Alma Boenker, 30; her brother, Herman Branney, who lives with them, and Esther, who was the only child, were in an automobile on their way to church from the Boenker residence, which is near the place where this accident occurred.

A passenger train was going west, its approach being obscured from the road by a curve and also by the circumstance that the train led through a deep cut. The automobile was going north, up a steep grade. The automobile was carried along by the engine for more than 60 feet, Boenker and his daughter being caught in the wreckage. Mrs. Boenker and Branney, occupying the rear seat, were thrown clear and escaped with minor bruises.

The injured were removed to a farmhouse and treated and Boenker and his daughter were taken to Barnes Hospital. It was said there today that Boenker likely would recover.

GRAND JURY URGED TO HASTEN INVESTIGATION OF ROBBERIES

Judge Hartmann Declares Delayed Inquiries Too Often Result in Disappearance of Witnesses.

Special activity in investigating highway robbery cases was urged today by Circuit Judge Hartmann in his instructions to the October Grand Jury. In addressing the jurors he said:

"Owing to the prevalence of highway robbery on our streets, the court charges prompt and thorough investigation of all such cases, so that prosecutions may speedily follow. A delayed investigation often results in the disappearance or fixing of witnesses and makes conviction impossible."

After giving these instructions the Judge said he had no particular case in mind, but that he felt the necessity for prompt investigations, because fixing of witnesses in robbery cases "is going on all the time."

The instructions made no mention of election fraud investigation, but Judge Hartmann said that if charges of fraud are made after the November election he will call the jury together for special instructions and charge them to thoroughly sift all such charges.

ALDERMAN LUKE E. HART HOME FROM PILGRIMAGE TO VATICAN

Alderman Luke E. Hart of 6136 Washington boulevard, St. Louis, member of the Supreme Board of Directors of the Knights of Columbus, who with three other St. Louisans, participated in the Knights of Columbus pilgrimage to the Vatican, returned home last night. The delegation left the United States July 31.

Following the presentation of a statue of Lafayette to the French city of Metz, Hart was one of 13 knights on whom the Order of the Star of Morocco was conferred by Marshal Foch on behalf of the French Government.

Dr. William S. Barker, 3555 Delmar boulevard, was awakened at 4:40 a. m. today by a burglar, who ran out the front door with the doctor's watch and chain.

At 4:20 a. m. yesterday Mrs. Frank Hartung, 2632a Shenandoah avenue, awoke and saw a barefooted boy, about 12 years old, in her room. He jumped through a rear window and slid down the roof of a porch to the ground. He took with him $16 from Hartung's pocket.

Henry Weiss, 3522 South Spring avenue, who has the key to the flat of his upstairs neighbor, Thomas Laws, heard the telephone ringing upstairs yesterday morning and went up the rear way. A man ran out the front way. The flat had been ransacked. It is not known what was taken.

Other burglaries.

At the home of Dr. Edwin C. Ernst, 231 Westgate avenue, University City, while the family was out last night, burglars carried away clothing, liquor and other articles valued at $1500, removing the plunder in a wagon which was backed up to the front door. They entered through a broken-in icebox, removing the ice from without and forcing the inner door.

Other burglaries reported were: Herman Linck, 4162 Botanical avenue, $7 and jewelry valued at $450; Mrs. Lillian Alexander, 5528 Westminster place, jewelry valued at $300; W. A. Ulrich, 6021 South King's highway, jewelry valued at $150; Charles Kist, 3728 Bamberger avenue, $50.

Sisters Have Double Wedding.

Misses Marie and Geneva Langley, sisters, of 1535 North Forsyth, were married in St. Louis, were principals Saturday in a double wedding at Clayton. The former was married to E. F. Davidson, a locomotive engineer, of 412 Bond avenue, and Miss Geneva Langley became the bride of Leroy S. Hight, employed as a foreman by the American Zinc Co. The two couples departed Saturday evening for a trip through the Eastern states.

TEXAS CENSUS 4,661,027

GAIN OF 19.6 PER CENT

New York State, 10,384,144; Increase 13.9 Per Cent; New Jersey, 3,155,374, Gain 24.4 Per Cent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—New York State, the most populous in the country, has a population of 10,384,144, an increase of 1,270,516, or 13.9 per cent over that of 10 years ago. Populations of three other states also were announced today by the Census Bureau.

Texas has 4,661,027 inhabitants, an increase of 764,485, or 19.6 per cent over 1910. New Jersey, with a population of 3,155,374, showed an increase of 618,207, or 24.4 per cent. Ohio, with a population of 4,213,525, increased 196,232, or 32.6 per cent.

New York's growth was the second largest in its history, but was 57,193 below that of the decade ending in 1910. Its percentage increase was next to the lowest on record, a growth of 12.9 per cent being shown for the decade ended with 1870.

Revised Statistics of City.

Revised statistics on New York City's population, also announced today, show the city to have absorbed practically two-thirds of the entire State's growth. The revised population of the city was announced as 5,620,048, an increase of $3,165, or 17.9 per cent. This was 1103 less than the population previously announced.

Texas is expected to retain its present rank of fifth most populous State. Although its numerical growth was large, it showed its lowest relative increase. New Jersey, which ranked eleventh in 1910, passes Indiana and Georgia in the 1920 census rank. The State showed its second largest numerical growth on record.

Idaho passes New Mexico and Vermont in the 1920 rank of states. It showed its second greatest numerical growth, but its relative increase was the lowest in its history.

Boroughs of New York City.

New York city (revised), 5,620,048; increase, $3,165, or 17.9 per cent. The population as previously announced was 5,621,151.

Revised populations of the five boroughs of New York City were announced as follows:

Manhattan, 2,284,102; decrease, 74,439, or 2.0 per cent.

Bronx, 732,016; increase 301,036, or 69.8 per cent.

Brooklyn, 2,018,356; increase, 354,005, or 22.5 per cent.

Richmond, 116,531; increase, 30,562, or 35.6 per cent.

Queens, 469,042; increase, 130,999, or 63.1 per cent.

Harris County, Tex., containing Houston, 156,687; increase 79,974, or 61.3 per cent.

MACHINIST KILLS HIMSELF

C. A. Seifert Fires Shot After Quarrel With Wife.

Charles A. Seifert, 39 years old, a machinist living at 7082 Bancroft avenue, shot and killed himself at his residence last night.

His wife, Ella, said they had an argument and she took her two children to the home of her father, Henry Frost, 7074 Winona avenue, and spent the night.

Frost found Seifert's body this morning when he went to his home to settle the dispute.

The union, on the other hand, has applied to Judge Alschuler for an increase averaging $1 a day for each of the 129,000 employees of the "Big Five"—Armour, Swift, Morris, Wilson and Cudahy—as well as for 80,000 employees of smaller concerns.

HARE'S MOTORS
INCORPORATED
16 West 61st St.
New York City

Hare's Motors is Coming to St. Louis

When? That depends.

This Company controls the manufacture and distribution of Locomobile, Mercer and Simplex cars and Riker trucks—four products that are known throughout the world as typical of American motor vehicle production at its best. The officers of Hare's Motors are men of long experience and proven capacity as automobile executives, and in formulating their Company's policies are able to draw upon a unique wealth of knowledge as to what lines of procedure are sound and what are not. They are building a distributing organization upon the broadest, fairest and most constructive lines ever laid down for the merchandising of automotive products. They are ready to discuss this proposition at any time with men of the right calibre to become their local representatives—but only with such as measure up to the obvious requirements of an institution that everywhere stands for quality both in men and merchandise.

In St. Louis, as elsewhere, the Hare's Motors account will be assigned only when the right distributor is found. It offers a wide territory, a long term contract, an exceptional opportunity for a permanent connection of the most profitable kind. Its very amplitude, indeed, demands a representative of rare ability, substance and character, and only when an applicant has satisfied our standards in these respects can we say with assurance when Hare's Motors will come to St. Louis.

$15COX TELLS WHY
WOMEN SHOULD
SUPPORT LEAGUEGovernor, in Address at Dayton, Says It Will Set Up
Clearing House for Justice and Social Service.By the Associated Press.
DAYTON, O., Oct. 4.—At home from a campaign tour that took him more than 11,000 miles and into every state west of the Mississippi River, except three, Gov. James M. Cox, though supposed to rest for two days before going into Kentucky and Tennessee, today continued his plea for adoption of the League of Nations, the paramount issue of the campaign.

In an address to a body of women the Governor went into considerable detail why women should support the league cause, asserting that throughout the years they have been "the leaders of progress in the world," and declaring that wrath of the women who were made to suffer in the war will pursue Franz Joseph, William Hohenzollern and Nicholas Romanoff "through all eternity." Though asserting that the monetary cost of the war, direct and indirect, was $200,000,000,000, it was the women, Gov. Cox declared, who know what the war really cost, "for they paid the price in personal suffering to provide the rulers of the earth with 10,000,000 men, which were thrown into the gauges of battle to placate the anger of the gods of war."

League to Promote Progress.
The league, Gov. Cox said, not only will prevent war, which he asserted is its primary purpose, but also will promote progress, and will "set up, or itself become, a clearing house for international justice and social service."

"Those who want to keep on dreaming of a new heaven and a new earth" can, perhaps, afford to stay out of the league," the governor said, "but those who really want to make their dreams come true and make this world a fit habitat for the human spirit will want to join the league without delay."

The Governor detailed the following social service and justice program which he asserted member nations of the league will endeavor to carry out.

"Try to secure and maintain fair and humane conditions of labor for men, women and children, thus lifting the standard of living everywhere."

"Try to secure just treatment of the native inhabitants of territories under their control."

"Try to secure and maintain freedom of communication and of transit, and equitable treatment of the commerce of members of the league."

"Labor together in the effort to control and ultimately eradicate disease."

"Set up commissions for the prevention of the illicit traffic in arms, in dangerous drugs and in women for immoral purposes."

Says Issue Is Moral One.
Asserting that the issue is not fundamentally a legal or diplomatic one, but a moral one, and declaring it fortunate that women for the first time hold the balance of power and the deciding vote, the Governor said he has no doubt in his mind how the women's vote will be cast. He continued:

"The women of America will vote to keep our peace to $1,000,000,000 whose blood has crimsoned the peoples of Flanders' fields. They will vote for the limitation of armaments, the arbitration of disputes, the publication of secret treaties, the amelioration of distress and the elevation of labor conditions to higher standards. In a word, they will vote for a league which will convert Christian idealism into the statutes of sound statesmanship and bring to the sons of men a peace that shall cover the earth as the waters cover the sea."

SHOOTING STILL A MYSTERY

Police Unable to Learn Who Killed East St. Louis Saturday Night.

East St. Louis police have been unable to ascertain the identity of the person who fatally shot John Buda, 35 years old, of 2135 Missouri avenue, while in an alley in the rear of 1194 Gaty avenue, Saturday night. Buda was shot in the back and died shortly after.

Yesterday policemen were told that a negro man and woman were seen leaving the alley, in different directions, following the noise made by the shot. It was several minutes later before residents of the neighborhood were aware that anybody had been wounded. They were attracted to Buda by his groans.

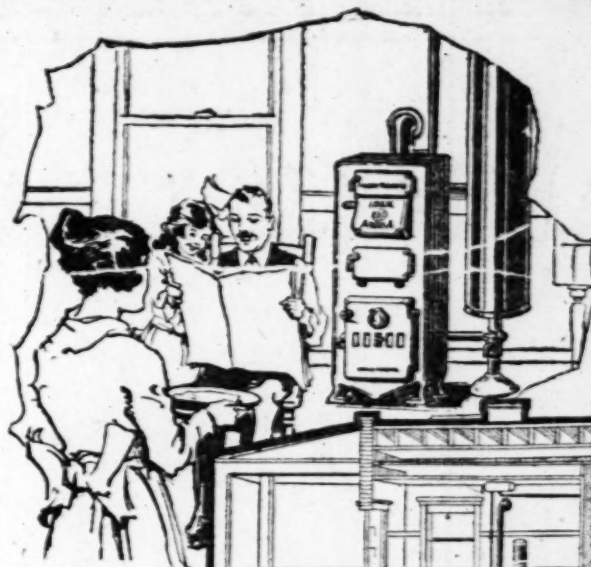

MRS. MARY B. WALLACE DIES

Mrs. Mary Brookings Wallace, wife of Asa A. Wallace, 3 University Lane, died at her residence yesterday afternoon from heart trouble from which she had suffered for more than a year.

She was active in Methodist church circles and was head of the work for orphans of the Methodist church in the city. She is survived by her husband, three sons and one daughter. She was a sister of Robert Brookings, president of the Washington University Corporation, and H. O. Brookings. The funeral will be held from the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir. Called Aspirinol. Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies. Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter if Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinol, the twinge cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as the fastest, most quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinol and tell him to serve you two teaspoonsful with four teaspoonsful of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be hushful, for the druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspirinol is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.

For immediate and permanent relief from eczema I prescribe Resinol

If you want to experiment, try some of those things you talk about. But if you really want that itching stopped and your skin healed, I advise you to get a jar of Resinol Ointment, and a cake of Resinol Soap. We doctors have been prescribing that treatment ever since you were a small boy, so we know what it will do. It is cooling, soothing, easy and economical to use, and rarely fails to overcome eczema and similar affections.

SPENCER STICKS TO HIS STATEMENT

Insists His Construction of What Wilson Said to Serbs and Rumanians is Correct One.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I have just seen the article with rather striking headlines that my statement to the effect that the "President absolutely bound the United States to send their army and their fleet across the sea in the event that any boundary line over-which was invaded by any nation" was characterized by the President as being "absolutely and unqualifiedly false."

In the first place I do not for a moment believe that the President made any such denial or that the matter was ever called to his attention, as Mr. J. P. Tumulty indicates in his letter.

Anyone who knows the situation at Washington knows that Mr. J. P. Tumulty is himself conducting the administration of government far more than the President of the United States, and has become accustomed to issue orders and make statements originating entirely in his own mind, but falsely announced as having back of them the knowledge and sanction of the President. It is the most unfortunate condition of government in which this nation has ever found itself.

In the second place, the statement I made is true, and if Mr. J. P. Tumulty had taken the time to have looked at the record of the Eighth Plenary Session of the peace conference he would find that the official stenographic report thus quotes the President of the United States in speaking to the Rumanian delegates, who were present at the peace conference at Paris on that occasion. He said to them:

"You must not forget that it is force which is the final guaranty of the public peace. If the world is again troubled—the guaranty given you means that the United States will send to this (the European side) of the ocean their army and their fleet."

More than this the President is still incredible as it may seem—insisting that the United States assume this very obligation, and he has incorporated this un-American obligation into the League of Nations in article 10, by which he attempts to bind the United States.

"To preserve against external aggression the territorial integrity of every member of the league."

The members of the league are 40—old in number and practically comprise the whole world with the exception of Russia and Austria and Germany and some lesser states. The only way known to man by which the boundary line (the territorial integrity) of a nation can be preserved against external aggression is by force, for when the invasion which is the external aggression has commenced, it requires the presence of an army and a navy to stop it and drive it back.

The promise of the President to send an American army in any time of world trouble which he made to the Rumanian delegates has been published over and over again. It has been repeated on the floor of the Senate. The Century Magazine for May, 1920, quoted and criticized it, and the fact of its having been made has never been denied until now Mr. J. P. Tumulty attempts to stop a hurricane of American condemnation by a denial unsupported by authority and in direct contradiction of the official record.

Believe me, with great respect, very truly yours,

SELDEN P. SPENCER.

NOTE—What Senator Spencer said in his address to the Million Population Club, as reported by the Globe-Democrat, and what President Wilson denied in Secretary Tumulty's statement to the Post-Dispatch, was: "He quoted Wilson's statement to the Rumanians and Serbs, in which Spencer said Wilson told them that if any nation ever invaded their territory he would send the American army across the seas to defend their boundary lines."

TERM OF COURT PASSES WITHOUT NEED FOR A JURY

Only Three Criminal Cases on Docket in Madison County, Mo., and They Are Dismissed.

FREDERICKTOWN, Mo., Oct. 4.—The regular September term of the Madison County Circuit Court closed Saturday, having established a record that perhaps has never been equaled by a Missouri County. Only three criminal cases were docketed and they were dismissed by the State for lack of evidence. After the first day it became apparent that there would be no need for the petit jury and the entire panel was discharged by Circuit Judge Heck, without having been called upon to hear a single case.

Lawyers who have practiced in this court for many years agree that they never before knew of a term of Circuit Court in which there was no need for a jury.

MANICURE TRIES TO END LIFE

Woman With Whom She Roomed Says She Had Been Out of Work.

Virginia Callaway, 35 years old, a manicurist, rooming at the home of Mrs. Viola Williams, 5334 Delmar boulevard, was found unconscious in her room with an empty bottle, that had contained carbolic acid at 2:30 p. m. yesterday. At the City Hospital her condition was pronounced critical.

Mrs. Williams told the police the woman had been out of work for some time and apparently was dependent. Investigation disclosed the girl had purchased the acid at the Delmar Pharmacy, Delmar boulevard and Hamilton avenue, Saturday, after saying she wanted it for a disinfectant.

ITALIAN PREMIER DESCRIBES INDUSTRIAL CHANGE; SAYS THERE WAS LITTLE FIGHTING

Not More Than 12 Killed and Little Damage Done to Property, Giolitti Declares—Advantages Gained by Workers.

By The Associated Press.
ROME, Oct. 4.—Italy has gone through a radical transformation in the relations existing between employers and workers with little injury to persons, property or the order of things, says Premier Giolitti, in a statement to the Associated Press. He explains the significance of the settlement reached between owners and employees, and says more cordial relations between capital and labor will exist in the future. Incidentally, the Premier, upon whose initiative the controversy was settled, takes occasion to ridicule alarming stories printed in the United States relative to conditions in Italy during the last month.

"Metal workers were receiving wages of from 18 to 20 lire daily," says Signor Giolitti in explaining the situation at the beginning of the movement. Considering the present rate of exchange, these wages represented less than $1 American money.

Actual Happenings.
"The Italian metal workers asked their employers for a wage increase of 4 lire daily, which would bring up the highest wage to what was equivalent to $1. The employers, who, during the war, made enormous sums, refused the request, claiming profits of their establishments did not leave a sufficient margin. The men, fearing a lockout, refused to leave the factories and in the absence of proprietors and technical staffs, undertook to carry on the plants themselves.

"Extremists among the workmen tried to take advantage of the situation in order to incite their companions to turbulence. They tried to force what was a purely economic upheaval into politics, but succeeded in causing only isolated episodes of violence. The large majority of the men, as well as the responsible leaders of the Confederation of Labor, were true to their program of maintaining the dispute strictly in the economic field.

About 12 Killed.
"Many persons volunteered advice to the Government as to its using force and employing soldiers, cannon and machine guns for what they considered the necessity of making the rights of property respected. Considering the fact there were more than 500,000 workers involved and over 600 factories occupied, an attempt to dislodge the men by force would have plunged the country into civil war.

"The number of those killed was about a dozen, including some victims of clashes between 'red' and 'white' workmen. Now, I rejoice to say, work is generally being resumed, factories have been evacuated and the men are co-operating with the owners and technical staffs to set things going once more. We thus have succeeded in satisfactorily settling one of the worst economic conflicts in industrial history without grave losses and have initiated what is most important—better feeling between employers and men.

"The present arrangement, I firmly believe, probably has postponed the advent of Socialism in Italy for perhaps a century, and certainly for 50 years.

Gains for Workmen.
"What have Italian workmen gained? Larger wages, amounting altogether to one dollar per week, one week's holiday in a year, and participation in a commission composed of masters and men which will present to the Government the project for a bill to be passed by Parliament enabling the men to check up on financial and technical conditions of factories.

"In other countries the movement has been almost entirely misunderstood, if not deliberately misrepresented. It has been called 'control of workmen over factories.' This evidently is the result of a poor translation of the Italian word 'controllo,' which means verification, not domination, of business."

GIRL OF 15 MAKES ADDRESS FROM TEMPLE ISRAEL PULPIT

Leona Hurwitz, Soldan High Student, Pleads at Children's Festival for Regular Attendance.

Leona Hurwitz, 15 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Hurwitz of 27 Lewis place, and a third-year student in Soldan High School, delivered an address from the pulpit of Temple Israel last night, at the children's annual harvest festival, in observance of Succoth, the feast of tabernacles. It was her second public appearance of this character.

She urged her hearers, both adult and juvenile, to be regular in attendance at the synagogue. She pointed out the symbolism of the candles, lighted for the feast, as types of joy, purity and wisdom.

A campaign for attendance at the temple was begun at the meeting, the purpose being to make children regular attendants with their parents.

SAM B. COOK IN HOSPITAL HERE

State Senator Sam B. Cook of Jefferson City is at St. Luke's Hospital receiving treatment for kidney trouble. Mrs. Cook and their two sons came here today to be with him.

Though the Senator's condition is not dangerous, according to his nurse, he is rather nervous, and his physicians have forbidden him to receive visitors. He had been ill at his home in Jefferson City about two weeks before being brought here.

Held on Embellishment Charge.
Ernest K. Sahimann was arrested at Breese, Ill., Saturday, on a warrant sworn out at Belleville by Ferdinand P. Rimsa, secretary-treasurer of the Missouri Iron and Steel Corporation of St. Louis, charging him with embellishment of $150, which it is said he collected and retained while a salesman for the company. He is a prisoner at Belleville. He will have a preliminary hearing tomorrow.

MARYVILLE (ILL.) CAR BARN HELD UP AGAIN

Same Two Employees Report Third Robbery in 45 Days by Same Robber.

For the third time in 45 days Christ Menzie and William Bruner, watchmen and repair men at the East St. Louis & Suburban car barns at Maryville, Ill., midway between Edwardsville and Collinsville, today reported to the police that two robbers held them up and broke open and robbed a strong box in the car shed. They said about $600 was stolen. In each of the three cases the same men reported being held up and they say that in each case the robbers were the same. The box is of metal and has a slit through which conductors drop their day's receipts. It sits just inside the door of the car shed.

Menzie and Bruner said they were at work in the shed at 3 a. m. today when the two robbers entered. They heard someone say, "Is the watchman here?" They turned and found themselves covered with revolvers. One of the robbers, they said, picked up an ax from a pile of tools in the shed and broke open the strong box and rifled it, after which the robbers backed out.

On the night of Aug. 15, according to the watchmen, the same two men bring on that tired, depressed feeling and that dull, nagging backache. You may have headaches and dizzy spells, too, with some annoying kidney irregularity. Don't wait for the trouble to become serious. Get back your health and keep it! Live more simply for awhile and help the weakened kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Be Rid of That Nagging Backache!

These Are St. Louis Cases:

EASTON AVENUE

John Neuroth, contractor and builder, 4035A Easton av., says: "I always use Doan's Kidney Pills when I feel in need of a kidney medicine or my back gets to hurting me, and they never fail to do me good. Occasionally I take a heavy lift while working, and I think it is the cause of bringing on attacks of backache, especially when my kidneys don't act as they should. I resort to Doan's Kidney Pills at these times and it don't take them long to straighten me up. I am glad to say I have had no further need to take a medicine of any kind for some time, not since I used the last box of Doan's. I believe they have cured me."

DODIER STREET

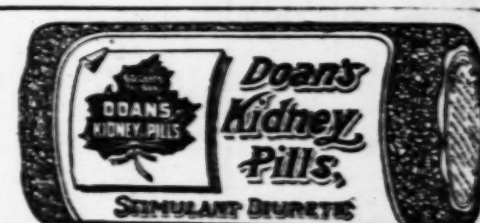

Mrs. H. Rudolph, 2211 1/2 Dodier St., says: "I always have a good word to say for Doan's Kidney Pills whenever I hear anyone complaining of their kidneys. I have used Doan's at different times when my kidneys required a little tonic or my back got to hurting and they brought quick relief. My back got strong and my kidneys were regulated." (Statement given November 13, 1918.)

On March 11, 1920, Mrs. Rudolph added: "I have great faith in Doan's Kidney Pills and can recommend them to anyone troubled as I was. Since using Doan's I have been in much better health and I gladly recommend them and confirm my former statement of 1918."

SOUTHWEST AVENUE

Mrs. J. L. Ross, 7279 Southwest av., says: "I was helpless with kidney trouble. My back was lame and painful and I couldn't even turn over in bed without help. I didn't seem to have any strength in my back and when I sat down in a chair I couldn't get up again. I had pains in the top and back of my head and my kidneys didn't act regularly. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I did so. I was surprised how quickly I got relief and I have relied upon Doan's ever since. I have often advised other people to try Doan's." (Statement given Nov. 12, 1918.)

On March 11, 1920, Mrs. Ross added: "Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of kidney trouble several years ago. I have not had to use a kidney remedy since."

NO package of Doan's Kidney Pills is genuine unless it bears the maple-leaf trademark and the signature—"Jas. Doan."

LINCOLN AVENUE

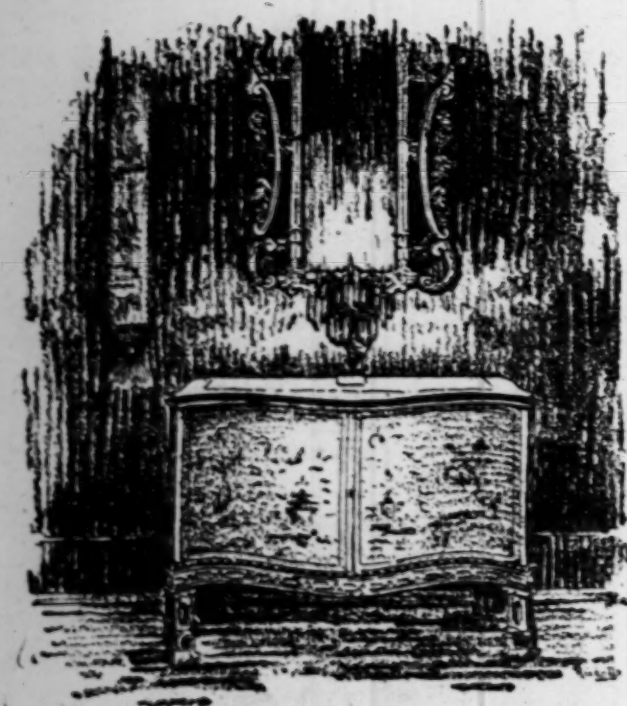

Ernest G. Dickinson, carpenter, 3907 Lincoln av., says: "Some years ago I had trouble with my kidneys and bladder, brought on through taking a heavy cold. For five or six days I could hardly get about. My back pained night and day and mornings I was sore and lame. I felt tired and miserable. I was advised by my mother to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and after taking three boxes I was fixed up in good shape. I have never had a return of the trouble."

CRITTENDEN STREET

John N. Watkins, painter, 3431A Crittenden st., says: "The fumes of the turpentine, I believe, caused my kidney trouble. My kidneys were out of order. When bending over I had pains in my kidneys that felt as though someone was sticking a knife into me. After using a box of Doan's Kidney Pills I was pretty well over the trouble. Three boxes drove the trouble out of my back and today I am in a good condition. My back never bothers me and my kidneys act all right."

Decorative Furniture

In our Department of Interior Decorations we have an assemblage of furniture chosen from the most distinctive furniture in the world.

With a representative array of many other types and kinds of furniture to show you, we wish to call your particular attention to the charms of our extensive showing of Lacquer.

Chairs, tables, consoles and mirrors, decorated library tables, work tables—even desks for little children. There are also tea tables, chairs and stands of that stunning Chinese red—which is the loveliest red in all the world.

We mention Lacquer Furniture only incidentally. You will find in the Department of Interior Decorations on our sixth floor, a wealth of beautiful and interesting things intended for homes of distinction—which need not, necessarily be homes of extravagance.

We enjoy having you look through this splendid department just as much as you enjoy looking, so don't hesitate to drop in any time, even though nothing is further from your thought than the buying of Decorative Furniture.

CAMPAIGN CHIEFS FIND THEY NEED PRESIDENT'S HELP

Wilson's Entrance With Statements Shows "Practical" Plan Without His Idealism a Failure.

By the Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The entrance of President Wilson into the campaign, through the issuance of statements, marks the collapse of the original plan of the managers who came into control of the Democratic party machinery after the nomination of Gov. Cox.

It is no secret that the new directors of party policy planned to wage a "practical" campaign, in which the idealism of Woodrow Wilson would have no part. They took at face value the shrewdly disseminated Republican propaganda that the country was tired of Wilson and all his works, and reasoned from that premise that Cox's only hope of winning lay in divorcing himself utterly from administration influences. The "taint" of Wilsonism must not be allowed to poison the Cox campaign. With these leaders, as with the Republicans, "Out, damned spot!" was the motto.

Plans of Practical Men.
So they planned, these practical men, to ignore Wilson and his Cabinet, and to kick the league issue as far to one side as possible. Their first step was to get rid of Homer Cummings of Connecticut, then chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Cummings was too closely identified with the administration generally, and with support of the League of Nations in particular, to fit into the new strategy.

There is reason to believe that Gov. Cox did not acquiesce readily in the dismissal of Cummings, but gave in only after prolonged insistence by the "State leader" group which had engineered his nomination at San Francisco.

Cummings had formulated a scheme of campaign in keeping with the note of idealism which he had sounded in his keynote speech at the convention. The league was to be the major issue. The party was to go before the country not with apologies for the part played by the President in the world settlement at Paris, but with pride in what he achieved against odds.

Cummings wanted a solemn referendum on the league. He had in mind a campaign on a high plane—so, at least, his friends say, and persons who have observed Cummings' methods in the past who know of his close relations with the President, and the streak of idealism in his own makeup, evidenced in his San Francisco speech, will not be inclined to doubt their judgment.

Cummings was ready with his plan, down to the details of committees to be appointed, when the new powers of the party decreed a new deal.

Deal Has Been a Failure.
The deal has been a failure. The Democratic campaign has failed to make headway. Prominent Democrats who have visited the New York headquarters of the national committee in the last week have brought back a story of divided councils there, of a lack of funds so acute that on Saturday night there is raking and scraping to meet the payroll; of party leaders "running around in circles," not knowing what to do to save a situation that is daily becoming more desperate.

The head man at New York is George White, Cummings' successor as chairman of the National Committee. Second in rank is Willbur Marsh, the national treasurer, who had a large share in effecting Cox's nomination; and third is Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the speakers' bureau.

White is described as a likable man, but handicapped by lack of experience in national politics. Marsh is criticized for the failure to get adequate campaign funds. Not only, it is said, have his own efforts proved unsuccessful, but he has vetoed workable plans offered by others. Harrison is personally popular, but critics of the new regime say he, like the chairman, suffers from inexperience. Harrison is from Mississippi and knows the ins and outs of fighting Democrats in in southern primaries, but that's a different matter from fighting Republicans in a national election.

Attitude of Gov. Cox.
The criticism does not extend to Gov. Cox. Disregarding the "practical" advice of the extreme exponents of the "new deal," Cox visited the President at the White House and accepted the League of Nations as an issue. On the stump he has been true to the promise of the party platform and to his own statement after his talk with the President. Everybody agrees that he's making a fine uphill fight.

Mr. Wilson has always been ready to aid in the campaign; he has only been waiting for the word that his aid would be acceptable. The announcement that he will issue statements on the League and other issues means that that word has been forthcoming. It means that the "new deal," which Cox never wholly accepted, has failed—that the party heads have found out that something more than "practical politics" must be played if the Democrats are to win. The managers who were going to cut completely loose from the administration have obviously come to the unpalatable conclusion that they can't win without Wilson.

NASH SIX

Nash Prices Cannot Be Reduced Because They Have Never Been Inflated

There will be no reduction in the price of the Nash Six.

We think it only fair to state our policy plainly in justice to present Nash Six owners and those who contemplate purchasing this car.

Nash prices cannot be reduced because present prices represent the actual intrinsic value of the product plus a profit sufficient only to maintain manufacturing operations.

That is a plain statement of fact.

We cannot buy the high grade materials used in the Nash Six any cheaper.

We cannot buy the skilled labor employed in the making of the Nash Six any cheaper.

These two factors determine price. Until materials are lower or labor is lower, no one can manufacture such a car as the Nash Six for less money.

We say no one advisedly because here in this great plant covering 101 acres of ground and employing 5000 skilled workmen, manufacturing costs are reduced to their lowest level.

Here, the Nash Six is manufactured 93% in its entirety.

We have every advantage that large resources and a well established business afford—the purchase of raw materials on a big scale, perfected manufacturing processes and the distribution of costs over a large output.

This insures minimum production costs for each individual car.

That is why the Nash Six has always represented exceptionally high value.

The savings made by our manufacturing methods have been given to the buyer, keeping the price of this car at the lowest possible figure.

Consider this fact.

Since 1917, while prices of all commodities have been soaring, the price of the Nash Six has risen only 31%. Considering the addition of cord tires and other equipment as standard equipment, the actual increase has been only 24%.

During that time, the increased price of other motor cars shows an average rise of 76%.

The cost of living has risen 104%.

These figures show plainly that Nash manufacturing ability does make possible a car of exceptional value, and that Nash selling prices have always been kept low in accordance with our low production cost.

In view of price changes, actual and rumored, we welcome the opportunity to make this statement:

"That the Nash Six today represents more actual value, and is a bigger and better automobile than any other car within hundreds of dollars of its price."

That is our judgment and that it is the judgment of many thousands of motor buyers is evident in the widespread conviction that the Nash Six does represent value impressively about the average.

Under these unsettled conditions it is the only explanation of the fact that today the Nash Motors Company has thousands of unfilled orders on its books and that maximum production schedules are being maintained in our factory.

You may purchase the Nash Six with the assurance that today as always, you are buying a car of exceptional value.

You buy more power with the Nash Six due to its Perfected Valve-in-Head Motor.

You buy comfort and convenience beyond the ordinary.

You buy really exceptional beauty of design and finish.

And you buy a car with the high character of its performance proved beyond question.

A STATEMENT

Our policy has always been to give the consumer the best automobile and best truck we could build at the least possible cost. We have never asked a dollar more, simply because we could get it.

In view of the fact that there is no reduction today in the price of materials or labor entering into Nash products, and that there is no possibility of any reduction for some time to come that can substantially affect manufacturing costs, the policy of The Nash Motors Company will be to absolutely maintain its present prices on both passenger cars and trucks to at least July 1st, 1921.

Archbishop E. J. Hanna of San Francisco, preaching yesterday at the New Cathedral. The visiting prelate was on his way home after attending a conference at Washington of the Catholic hierarchy.

His reason for what he considered the failure of the peacemakers was their failure to act in the spirit of Christ. His sermon was from the text "Be Renewed in the Spirit of Your Mind, and Put on the New Man in Justice, Holiness and Truth." Only by conducting the affairs of nations with the charity and humility of Christ could peace be attained, he said.

$100,000 ADDED TO DEMOCRATIC FUND IN WEEK

D. R. Francis' $500 and Smaller Gifts Increase St. Louis' Total at National Headquarters to $677.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—That the publicity treasurer, Wilbur Marsh, feared might prove discouraging to potential contributors to the Democratic campaign fund proved, on the contrary, helpful, is evidenced by the fact that contributions for the week ending today amount to a little more than $100,000. This was partially the result of the publicity given to the fund by the Post-Dispatch, which a week ago last Sunday, exclusively printed the full list of contributors of $250 and over and of the popularity the "match the President" slogan of Chairman White has attained.

Scores of contributors have matched the President's donation of $500. With the amount taken in this week, the total fund is getting up towards $250,000. This is far from the mark Treasurer Gerard set in his testimony before the Kenyon Committee in Washington when he said the committee needed $2,000,000. The vast bulk of the Democratic subscriptions are in small amounts. In a great many towns in the Democratic areas, collections have been made by one leader or another, and this has been responsible for an endless string of $1 contributions, all of which have to be entered. It costs as much in overhead to record one of these subscriptions as it does one for $1000.

More From St. Louis.

St. Louis, like the rest of the country, moved up in response to the committee's appeal for funds. In the campaign up to last Saturday, the city's total was $170. In the week ending today, $507 came in, bringing the city's total to $677. D. R. Francis "matched the President" with a check for $500, a man named Hoffman gave a dollar, an anonymous contributor a dollar and another modest patriot $5.

The most notable of the week's subscriptions was that of Henry Morgenthau, former Ambassador to Turkey, who matched the President with $500 for himself and $500 for each of his 10 grandchildren.

The week's subscriptions of $200 and over up to last night, follow:

Allen Wardwell, New York, $1000; F. J. Noonan, Mahanoy City, Pa., $1000; C. W. McAlpin, New York, $500; W. R. Thornton, New York, $250; J. P. C. Griggs, Tampa, Fla., $250; R. E. Reeves, New York, $250; D. R. Francis, St. Louis, $500; Julius C. Gunter, Denver, $250; M. G. Saunders, Pueblo, Colo., $250; Julian S. Carr, Durham, N. C., $250; Charles Peabody, New York, $250; H. M. Knight, Camden, N. J., $250; B. F. Yeakum, New York, $250; Dixon C. Williams, New York, $250; Nicholas D. Monsarratt, Columbus, O., $250; H. S. Grayson, Pittsburg, Pa., $250; Katherine L. Boyd, New York, $1000; Jesse Isidor Straus, New York, $1000; Percy Straus, New York, $1000; Lawrence H. Rupp, Allentown, Pa., $1000; W. L. Douglas, Brookline, Mass., $500; Ralph Pulitzer, New York, $1000; E. J. Lynch, Spencer, S. D., $500; Joseph P. Johnston, Kansas City, $200; Theodore H. Price, New York, $250; John C. Weadon, New York, $250; J. D. Grant, Sibley, La., $250; Frank B. Koch, New York, $250; Caroline O'Day, Rye, N. J., $1000; Gen. Lawrence D. Tyson, Knoxville, Tenn., $500; George Foster Peabody, New York, $500; M. Lisdell Jr., Erie, Pa., $500; Lorenzo Seemple, New York, $250; J. Lynett, Scranton, Pa., $200; H. Morgenthau, New York, for self and ten grandchildren $5500; Lawrence Maxwell, Cincinnati, $1000; Martha W. Fairfield, Washington, $500; Capt. G. T. Fitzhugh, Memphis, $500; Claude Chandler, Syracuse, $200; Bainbridge Colby, Washington, $500; employees of Ardis & Co., Shreveport, La., $250; Vance McCormick, Harrisburg, Pa., $1000; Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, Omaha, Neb., $1000; Dr. Elmer A. Sheetz, Youkers, $500; Charles G. Jackson, Boston, $500.

Woman "Matches President."

Today additional contributions to the "Match the President" fund were received as follows: Mrs. William Church Osborn, New York, $500; A. E. Gonzalez, publisher of the Columbia State, Columbia, S. C., $500, and Miss M. N. Cochran, Bryn Mawr, Pa., $500.

The list published in the Post-Dispatch last Sunday corresponds exactly with the books of Treasurer Marsh, and can be considered official. Marsh declared to the Post-Dispatch today that there was no secret whatever about the Democratic campaign fund, that the letter and spirit of all the laws governing political financing were being rigidly adhered to.

BEVERIDGE TO SPEAK HERE

Former United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana will speak in St. Louis, Oct. 20, the speakers' bureau of the Republican National Committee announced today. Beveridge was a leading member of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate while he was a Senator and he is expected to devote most of his attention in the St. Louis speech to the League of Nations. Beveridge was a Progressive in 1912.

Details of the arrangements for his meeting here have not been completed. It will be made during a tour started at Chicago, which will include Kansas City, and which will go all the way to San Francisco.

E. H. GARY BACK FROM EUROPE

Refuses to Comment on European Labor Situation.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Elbert H. Gary, head of the United Steel Corporation, returned from a European vacation yesterday on the steamship La France, bringing data on reconstruction work in France and Belgium which, he said, would be given to his organization and to the Iron and Steel Institute in their next meetings. With Gary was his wife, who accompanied him on a tour through Spain, France and Belgium.

He would make no comment on the labor situation in Europe. He said he hoped steel rail prices would not be affected to a great extent by freight rate increases.

HARDING DENIES BRE WITH IRRECONCILABLE

Senator Says Borah and Johnson Are in Harmony With Views on League.

MARION, O., Oct. 4.—Senator Harding left Marion today by train to make a speech near Fremont, 70 miles away, at the dedication of a memorial tablet in honor of those who lost their lives in the war.

In the address prepared for him, Senator Harding praised the heroism of the American expeditionary force and said that the peace treaty was a memorial to the peace-loving citizens in peace time.

In making plans for the trip, weeks ago Harding headquarters announced that Gov. Cox, the Senate nominee, also would attend the ceremonies. Later information was received here, however, that Governor would not be present.

Report of a break between Senator Harding and leading trustees over the treaty issue was denied last night by the senator, who said he had received information of public opinion by irreconcilable Senators as found in them no lack of his own.

"I approve what Senator has said in his public address," said Senator Harding, "He was at times to make speeches for the public ticket, and I am sure shall approve also what he has said in the future."

"I have just received a full graphic report of the address Senator Johnson made at Lima, Sept. 25. It dispels any notion that Senator Johnson is out of harmony with the form and the candidate."

"Senator Johnson reported from the League of Nations address which I delivered at Lima, giving his unqualified approval of the treaty, and his endorsement of the party's platform and my own interpretation brings no surprise to me. More than that, it adds to my confidence when we have recorded a graphic report of the address against the menace which we being 'let in for' we are going to have America agree to a program which shall hold us free and still play our part in the new conscience of the world."

One of the Senator's longest palin trips, taking him to Mexico, Omaha, Kansas City, Oklahoma City, will be Wednesday, St. Joseph, Mo., added to the itinerary today, meeting having been arranged for Friday, Oct. 8.

HARDING DENIES BREAK WITH IRRECONCILABLES

Senator Says Borah and Johnson Are in Harmony With Own Views on League.

MARION, O., Oct. 4.—Senator Harding left Marion today by motor to make a speech near Fremont, O., 10 miles away, at the dedication of a memorial tablet in honor of soldiers who lost their lives in the great war.

In the address prepared for the occasion Senator Harding praised the heroism of the American expeditionary force and asked that their service be made an example to American citizens in peace time patriotism. He did not touch on political issues.

In making plans for the trip two weeks ago Harding had announced that Gov. Cox, the Democratic nominee, also would speak at the ceremonies. Later information was received here, however, that the Governor would not be present.

Reports of a break between Senator Harding and leading irreconcilables over the treaty issue again were denied last night by the nominee, who said he had received detailed information of public speeches by irreconcilable Senators and had found in them no lack of harmony with his own views.

"I approve what Senator Borah has said in his public addresses," said Senator Harding. "He will continue to make speeches for the Republican ticket, and I am sure I shall approve also what he says to the voters in the future."

"I have just received a full stenographic report of the address of Senator Johnson made at Los Angeles, Sept. 25. It dissipates conclusively any notion that Senator Johnson is out of harmony with the platform and the candidate."

"Senator Johnson repeatedly quoted from the League of Nations address which I delivered on Aug. 15, giving his unqualified approval to it. His speech, with this generous endorsement of the party's platform and my own interpretation of it, brings no surprise to me. More than that, it adds to my confidence that when we have recorded America against the menace which we were being let in for, we are going to be able to have America agree on a program which shall hold us forever free and still play our part in expanding the new conscience of the world."

One of the Senator's longest campaign trips, taking him to Des Moines, Omaha, Kansas City and Oklahoma City, will begin on Wednesday, St. Joseph, Mo., was added to the itinerary today, a day meeting having been arranged there for Friday, Oct. 8.

TWO COMMITTEES TO RECEIVE HARDING HERE

City Committee to Name One, State Chairman Hughes Another.

The method chosen by Chairman Hughes of the Republican State Committee for selecting members of the reception committees for the Missouri addresses of Senator Harding, at Kansas City and St. Joseph, Friday, Oct. 8 and here at the Coliseum on the night of Saturday, Oct. 16, enables Hughes to steer around the likelihood of offending either the Kiel-Schmoll-Goldstein-Babler faction of the party or the housecleaners whose activity was so pronounced and effective in the August primary.

For the St. Louis meeting Hughes has elected to name members from the eastern half of the State outside of St. Louis, while leaving the selection of St. Louisans to the Republican City Committee of St. Louis.

In this manner Hughes escapes the necessity of deciding whether it would be better to appoint Nat Goldstein, John Schmoll, National Committeeman Babler and their associates upon the St. Louis committee and offend the housecleaners, whose activity led to the retirement of Chairman Cole and opened the way for Hughes' election as chairman, or leave those men off and incur their certain political displeasure, which might mean trouble in the party.

Responsibility Shifted. If these men and others viewed in the same political light by rural voters, are placed upon the committee by the St. Louis City Committee, the State organization is in a position to disclaim responsibility.

Whether matters will turn out so well with regard to the committee for the Kansas City meeting is not known yet.

Hughes has made public names of nearly 200 persons to constitute a committee for that gathering. It included members of the State Committee, Executive Committee and others from the western part of the State. The names of E. L. (Liv) Morse of Excelsior Springs, Lowden paymaster in Missouri, and others active with him in the Lowden organization, and formerly always identified with affairs of this kind, do not appear upon the list, nor does that of National Committeeman Babler.

The name of only one Kansas City man, aside from those on the State and Executive Committees, is on the list, that of former Mayor Henry M. Beardsley, chairman of the County Committee, and identified with the activities of the "anti-boss" faction. It is assumed by Republican politicians that Hughes will follow the same rule in Kansas City as here and allow the Republican County Committee of Jackson County or the city Committee of Kansas City to select local members of the Reception Committee. As both of those committees are controlled by the "anti-boss" group, that probably would mean that Thomas R. Marks, leader of the "boss" faction; Walter S. Dickey, former treasurer of the State committee, and their associates, would be left off, as feeling between the factions is very bitter.

Campaign Opening Here. Chairman Strodtman of the St. Louis City Committee said that the Republican campaign in St. Louis will be opened with a meeting at Tower Grove Turner Hall, Grand avenue and Junata street, in the Thirteenth Ward, on the night of Tuesday, Oct. 12. It had been hoped to have Senator Borah as the principal speaker, and since his decision not to make any more speeches in the general Republican campaign, another speaker has not been selected.

Arthur M. Hyde, nominee for Governor, and Senator Spencer both will speak at the meeting.

The City Committee will meet Wednesday night this week, instead of Tuesday, as heretofore, because of the Velled Prophet's arrival tomorrow night.

$48,000 in Securities in Scrap Iron. By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Negotiable notes totaling $48,000 and a $50 Liberty bond were found in a tin can by a workman while unloading a car of scrap iron. The workman turned the securities over to his employer. They belonged to a manufacturing concern in Rockford.

INITIALED EGGS

H. Rider Haggard, the English novelist, tells how Denmark manages to have strictly fresh eggs:

The farmers are registered and required to number and initial each egg sent to market.

If one or two are bad, the farmer is fined. If three are bad, he is boycotted.

Less drastic, yet equally effective, measures are employed in selecting the eggs at CHILDS—they're positively fresh.

Buffed, fried, poached, scrambled, or made into a delicious omelet.

The name of only one Kansas City man, aside from those on the State and Executive Committees, is on the list, that of former Mayor Henry M. Beardsley, chairman of the County Committee, and identified with the activities of the "anti-boss" faction. It is assumed by Republican politicians that Hughes will follow the same rule in Kansas City

SECOND LIQUOR LAW VIOLATION IS CHARGED

W. F. Niehaus, Proprietor of North Grand Avenue Place, and His Bartender Arrested.

Walter F. Niehaus, proprietor of a saloon and cabaret known as "Jazzland," at 1325 North Grand avenue, and his bartender, Henry Brinkman, were arrested about midnight Saturday after prohibition enforcement agents had found raisin whisky behind the bar. This was Niehaus' second arrest on a charge of violating the prohibition law.

The agents had a man watching the place. When they went there Saturday night this man told them that Niehaus a short time before had received a telephone message which apparently notified him the agents were coming as he at once had Brinkman, the bartender, change the location of a quart measure of whisky behind the bar.

The agents on arriving rushed behind the bar. They reported that as they did so Niehaus, at the other end of the bar, upset a quart measure, emptying its contents in the rinsing trough in which water was standing. They seized the measure and found that it still contained about an ounce of raisin whisky. They also took two quarts of the rinse water from the trough and will test it to find if it contains one-half per cent of alcohol. If it does its presence in the saloon would constitute a violation.

The agents said that as they made the rounds of saloons Saturday night they found that saloon keepers were using the telephone to warn other saloon keepers of their approach.

Abandoned St. Paul Church Burned. ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 4.—Old St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, a familiar landmark, was destroyed by fire early today. Two firemen were slightly injured by falling timbers. The church, built in 1871, had been vacant since 1916.

HOMICIDE VERDICT IN KILLING OF BOY BY AUTO

Father Says Dentist's Machine Was Speeding When It Hit His Son on Viaduct.

A Coroner's verdict of homicide was returned today against Carl J. Wenige, 24 years old, of 2531 South Jefferson avenue, a dentist, following an inquest into the death of James Edward Jensen, 14 years old, son of Christopher L. Jensen, 5666 South Magnolia avenue, secretary of the Jensen Printery, 217 North Third street, from injuries received when he was struck by Wenige's automobile on the King's highway viaduct, near Manchester avenue, at 3:15 a. m. yesterday. This was the eighth second automobile fatality in St. Louis this year.

Jensen testified that he and his son were pushing a motor cycle with side car, which had become disabled, south along the west side of the viaduct, when Wenige's automobile, going about 50 miles an hour, struck the boy and carried him about 75 feet on the fender. The automobile, he testified, ran 100 to 150 feet before it was stopped. Wenige did not testify.

Wenige and his companion, Miss Margaret McGrath, 1829 Oregon avenue, told the police they saw no lights on the motor cycle. The elder Jensen pointed out that the viaduct was brilliantly lighted and that there was very little traffic. The boy was taken in an automobile to the office of a physician at Grand and Russell avenues, where it was said that he had suffered a fracture of the skull and that death evidently had been instantaneous. The boy was a nephew of Mayor Edward N. Jensen of Richmond Heights, St. Louis County, who is president of the Jensen Printery.

Frank W. Ballweg, 39 years old, of 4924A Easton avenue, a furniture mover, died at the city hospital at 11:45 p. m. Saturday from internal injuries suffered Sept. 22 when he was crushed beneath an overturned motor truck in front of 4952 Easton avenue. Ballweg was riding with Frank Smiercina, 4911 Easton avenue, a grocer, when the steering knuckle broke, causing Smiercina to lose control of the truck, which swerved suddenly to one side and upset. Both men were thrown out and Ballweg was pinned beneath the truck.

Nine persons were injured in automobile accidents yesterday afternoon and evening.

Dr. Fred Veninga, 45 years old, of 2409 South Jefferson avenue, was thrown from his automobile in front of his home at 3 p. m., when the car was hit by an automobile driven by William Kiehn, 21, of 2208 Cherokee street. The physician suffered concussion of the brain and internal injuries. Kiehn and his companion, Elmer Todd, 18, of the Cherokee street address, were cut by glass from a broken windshield. Dr. Veninga was just driving away from his home. He was accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Helen Veninga, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Louise Ruhland. They were not hurt. Kiehn, who was arrested, told the police that Veninga failed to signal that he was about to proceed.

Four persons were cut and bruised when an automobile driven by Albert Bryton, 18, of 5534H Hodiament avenue, overturned at Florissant and Era avenues, at 4 p. m., after the radius rod broke. In addition to Bryton, those hurt were Viola Volen, 5730 Hamilton avenue; Jessie Virski, 718 Maryland avenue; and Irene Neunen, 2020 South Ninth street, each 16 years old.

Arthur H. Wenzel, 62 years old, of 229 Sidney street, was knocked down at Gravois and California avenue at 5 p. m., by an automobile driven by John Birschkus, 1101 South Eighteenth street. He was taken to the city hospital where it was said that he had suffered fracture of several ribs and internal injuries. Birschkus was arrested. Harry Perkins, 32, of 3730 Salome avenue, was knocked from his motorcycle at 7 p. m., when he ran against the parked automobile of Edward Redmeier, 1419 Palm street, in front of 4840 Florissant avenue. He was cut on the head and face.

CHICAGO 'THROWN OUT' OF FLAG, PLAYERS SAY

Two Bench Warmers Make Charge Against Certain of White Sox Teammates.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Charges that certain Chicago White Sox players regulated their playing this season by the scoreboard—winning, or losing, as the occasion demanded, in order to keep the betting odds favorable—were made last night by Byrd Lynn and Harvey McClellan, who said that, as "bench warmers" most of the season, they had studied the players carefully and were convinced the Sox were "thrown out of the pennant."

"We lost the pennant because certain players—they are among the best—were regulated by the scoreboard," said Lynn.

"We soon noticed how carefully they studied the scoreboard—more than even the average player does in a pennant race—and that they always made errors which lost us the game when Cleveland and New York were losing. If Cleveland won—we won. If Cleveland lost—we lost."

McClellan said he was convinced certain players had deliberately "thrown" three games in Boston on the last Eastern trip. "Several of the players noticed how their playing affected the others, and we felt all along that these men were regulating their play according to the play of other teams," he said.

Lynn said the idea of some of the players was to "keep up the betting odds," but "NOT to let Chicago win the pennant."

No announcement has been made as to whether any of the White Sox players will be called before the grand jury when it reconvenes in a special session tomorrow to continue the baseball inquiry. It is believed, however, that several of the players against whom indictments have not been voted will be called to tell their views and give opinions as to the ease or difficulty of "throwing" games.

Why Teeth Glisten

after dental cleaning—Why they soon grow dim

All statements approved by authorities

Your teeth glisten for awhile after a dental cleaning. Then they soon grow dim.

The reason lies in film. That is what makes teeth dingy. Your dentist removes it, but your tooth brush leaves much of it intact.

Now there's a way to daily combat film. Millions of people employ it. Shining teeth seen everywhere show how much it means. This is to urge that you try it and see what it means to you.

You must fight film

That viscous coat you feel on teeth is film. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The tooth brush does not end it used in ordinary ways. So, in the months between your dental cleanings, it may do ceaseless damage.

It more than dims teeth—it destroys them. Most tooth troubles are now traced to film. And, despite the tooth brush, those tooth troubles have been constantly increasing.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. And that is alarmingly common.

Science finds ways

Dental science has for years sought ways to fight that film. Proper tooth protection was impossible without it. This world-wide research has resulted in efficient methods, now at your command.

Years of careful tests have proved them. Authorities endorse them. Leading dentists everywhere advise them.

The methods are combined now in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. Millions already employ it, largely by dental advice. To those who do not know it yet we send a test tube free.

See and feel it act

One needs no scientific knowledge to realize Pepsodent effects. The results are quick and apparent. Every application repeats the benefits it brings.

One ingredient is peepsin. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva, to digest starch deposits that cling. The alkalinity of the saliva is multiplied also, to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps the teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

The film-coats are day-by-day fought as they never were before.

You'll be repaid

This ten-day test will well repay you. Not in whiter teeth alone, but in cleaner, safer teeth.

You will know how clean teeth look and feel. And how children's teeth can be protected as they have not been before.

Send the coupon for the 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

Watch the several effects from every application. The book we send will tell the reasons for them. You will quickly know that Pepsodent brings a new era in teeth cleaning. Cut out the coupon now.

No hot towels—
No rubbing

THE secret of softening the beard lies in emulsifying the oil that coats the hair of the beard.

And this is what Palmolive Cream does. It removes the oil-coat quickly, so the water penetrates the stiffest beard. This makes the beard wax-like and every hair easy to cut.

You don't have to use hot towels or rub with your fingers as you have to do with the ordinary shaving cream or soap. And hot towels, as you may know, make the skin too tender.

Both lather and lotion

Palmolive cream is also a lotion. For it contains Palm and Olive oils. Thus it gives to the face a satin smoothness when shaved.

Note this also. Palmolive stays moist and foamy 10 minutes. It does not dry up on the face as does the ordinary cream. And a mere bit is ample for a shave. For Palmolive multiplies itself in lather 250 times. A cream so active, as you know, has never been heard of before. There's enough for 152 shaves in our 35c size.

Try it free

Learn what it means to use Palmolive. How easier you shave. How much quicker. And how delightful it makes a shave. You will be astonished with the difference between this and your present way of shaving.

A trial tube of Palmolive will show you an altogether new kind of shave. And this tube is yours for the asking. Mail the coupon. Clip it out now while you are thinking of it.

"THE PENALTY" HAS A SINISTER VILLAIN

Last of Lieut. Locklear's Aviation Pictures Is a Feature at Liberty Theater.

For sheer villainy, unrelieved by a touch of human compassion, the character of "The Blizzard," taken by Lon Chaney in "The Penalty," is one of the most sinister and fearsome ever portrayed by this resourceful screen villain. This production, a film version of a Gouverneur Morris novel of the same title, opened yesterday at the King's Theater.

A remarkable feature is that throughout the action Chaney sustains the role of a legless man. The delusion was effected by mechanical means, the ordeal being so painful, it is said, that Chaney was able to act only seven minutes at a time while the picture was being made. Revenge is the keynote of the picture. The carelessness of a surgeon in "The Blizzard's" childhood caused his deformity and he has sworn vengeance on all mankind. The many ways in which this vengeance is worked out form the groundwork of the plot.

Locklear's Feats Shown. At the Liberty an excellent attraction is "The Skywayman," the picture in the making of which Lieut. Ormer Locklear and Lieut. Milton Elliott lost their lives. They had almost completed their task when the tragedy occurred and the picture was practically complete. It shows Locklear in many of his thrilling aviation feats, including dropping from a plane to a moving passenger train and later climbing back to the machine on a rope.

For those who like Western pictures with a melodramatic heroine there is much diversion in "For the Soul of Rafael," in which Clara Kimball Young is starring at the New Grand Central. She has the role of a maiden who was adopted by an Indian tribe. She saves a white man from torture and execution by giving him the tribal ring as a pledge of safety, not knowing at the time that under Indian usage the ring also was a token of betrothal. There are many complications after she married another man.

Anita Stewart's "Good Work" is the feature attraction at the West End Lyric and Lyric Skydome. This is a "heart story" of how a young woman gets into the coils of the "Greenwich Village" faddists and finds it extremely difficult to get out again. There are several love tangles and Miss Stewart never looked prettier than she does in this picture. It gives her a chance for some excellent emotional work. On the bill also is a clever "Torchy" comedy and there is an unusually fine travel picture showing glimpses of an island in the Caribbean Sea.

At the Delmonte "Madame X" goes into its second week. "The Devil's Pass Key" is the leader at the Delmar, and "Humoresque" opens at the Pershing tonight for a six-day run.

12 INDICTMENTS IN ALLEGED INDIAN LAND FRAUD CASES

Charges Against Nine Other Men in Oklahoma Besides Owners of 101 Ranch.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Oct. 4.—Conspiracy to defraud was the charge made against Zack T. George and Joe T. Miller of the famous 101 Ranch at Bliss, Ok., in indictments returned in the United States District Court, according to statements of Federal authorities, who also declare that John C. Newton and Victor Norton were indicted.

Thousands of acres of Indian land are involved in the case, according to Herbert Peck, United States District Attorney. The Indians affected are the Otoe, Missouri and Ponca tribes. About 60 fullbloods are said to have testified before the inquisitorial body.

It is understood that allegations to the effect that those indicted induced the Indians to make false applications for patents and fees to their lands, and before they were issued induced them to issue deeds, are the basis of the Government's prosecution of the case.

George and Joseph Miller appeared before Ernest Chambers, United States Commissioner, Saturday, and made bonds of $5000 each. Indictments were also returned against Joseph Lesert, J. A. Cobb, Clarence B. Baker, Leroy Drake, German French Jr., J. R. Ricks and John Carson, charging them with unlawfully inducing Indians to dispose of their property and holding it until turned over to the Miller brothers.

Labor to Campaign Against Wadsworth.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Fifteen representatives of organized labor, headed by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, will enter the campaign the defeat Senator Wadsworth, Republican, New York, next week. Federation headquarters announced last night. The Federation's fight against Wadsworth centers on his votes on the suffrage amendment and the transportation act.

Neuralgic Pains

Give Way to Soothing Hamlin's Wizard Oil

Hamlin's Wizard Oil is a safe, simple and effective treatment for both headache and neuralgia. Rubbed in where the pain is, it eases the tortured nerves and almost invariably brings quick relief. Keep a supply on hand.

Wizard Oil is a good dependable preparation to have in the medicine chest for first aid when the doctor may be far away. Its healing, antiseptic qualities can always be relied upon as a preventive against infection, or other serious results, from sprains, bruises, cuts, burns, bites and stings. Just as good, too, for sore feet, stiff neck, frost bites, cold sores and canker sores.

Generous also bottle 15c. If you are troubled with constipation or sick headache try Hamlin's Wizard Liver White. Just pleasant little pills at drugstore for 50c.

ATHLETIC CREDITS REQUIRED
LEXINGTON, Mo., Oct. 4.—Cadets at the Wentworth Military Academy here are required to make certain credits in athletics during the year. Capt. L. B. Wikoff, director of athletics, said. The cadets are allowed their choice of soccer, tennis, cage ball, football, gymnasium, swimming and boxing.

"At present we have started a series in football, soccer, tennis and swimming," Capt. Wikoff said. "We have every man in some game at least twice a week and every day we have about 200 engaged in some sport. We have a different system of compulsory athletics from that used in the average school of our type. We make everything on a competitive basis, company teams," and find that more work and 'pen' are developed in that way than in any other."

96% of the crop. Full of starch and short on gluten. Makes ordinary flour.

4% of the crop. Strong in gluten. Makes the finest flour.

Only 4% Measures Up To Enterprise Standards

The big hard wheat crop you hear so much about this year is long on quantity but very short on quality. Only four per cent of it is fit to be milled into Valier's Enterprise Flour.

Rain and warm weather made the grain outgrow its strength. It has too much starch and water in it and not nearly enough gluten.

The wheat that is good enough to be milled into Enterprise Flour grew where there was less moisture. It ripened into thinner, harder grain, strong and full of gluten. But it is only four per cent of the crop. It is very scarce and hard to find.

We have to have such grain, for no other will mill into flour capable of producing the same fine results that you have always had with Enterprise. So we paid the price and got it.

Naturally Enterprise costs a few cents more this year, but those few cents will be many times repaid. You won't be annoyed by needless, expensive failures and you'll get more bakings per sack than with ordinary flour.

DEMAND FOR SEATS AT GRACE LA RUE CONCERT

Actress Will Sing Friday Afternoon for Benefit of Post-Dispatch Milk Fund.

Tickets for the popular-price Grace La Rue concert to be given Friday afternoon for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund are selling rapidly, according to Melville Stoltz, manager of the American Theater. Friends of the babies seem to be unanimous in their desire to make this final affair of the Milk and Ice Fund season a big success and the young women who are disposing of the tickets report pleasing results from their first two days' sales. Seats are priced at 50 cents, 75 cents and $1.

The program will be entirely of songs in English from Miss La Rue's extensive repertoire, including both classical and popular numbers. William Conway will be at the piano. Miss La Rue has been called the American Yvette Guilbert, for she employs, besides her voice and piano, physical gestures and sundry articles of furniture befitting the songs she illustrates. She always succeeds in interesting and delighting her public, and many persons, remembering her pleasing work in former seasons as a vaudeville performer, are looking forward with delight to her Friday afternoon appearance.

"UP IN MABEL'S ROOM" IS JUST WHAT NAME SUGGESTS

Boudoir Buffoonery and Shock Situations in Well-Played Farce at Jefferson.

"Up in Mabel's Room" is just what its title indicates. Probably no one who went to see it at the Jefferson Theater last night supposed it to be anything about the Einstein theory, or the League of Nations, or the cost of living. It is about the cost of a rose-pink undergarment—its cost in worry and strife to the giver, the recipient and four others in a house party.

A bed is hidden under a clothes box is hidden in, doors slam, indignant wives pound other doors, hall chairs harbor locked-out husbands, lingerie protrudes from male pockets, every action is misconstrued and nearly every utterance is misunderstood, through three brief and brisk acts. No element of boudoir buffoonery, as made familiar in the bedroom farces of past seasons, is missing.

The laughs, which are frequent, accompany a series of shocks to the hearer's sense of delicacy, which are calculated and modulated with mathematical accuracy. The "big laugh" comes when Garry, the giver of the rose-pink undergarment, has been found hiding in the bedroom of Mabel, its owner, where he has been trying to steal the "foolish little slip," lest it should be shown to his bride, with its tell-tale embroidered words. Explaining matters to his wife and the rest of the house party, he blurts out, "I didn't get what I went after."

GERMAN ARMY OFFICER HELD

Charged With Robbing War Prisoners' Commission of $50,000 Francs.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—A German army officer named Feder Lepper was arrested at St. Sebastian, charged with robbing the German Commission for Prisoners of War in Paris of $50,000 francs (normally $150,000). When arrested Lepper was with a woman named Geraldine Obyrnia, with whom he had been living in great luxury.

At the home of a friend of Lepper the police found 40,000 francs worth of perfumes, which, it is alleged, he had bought with part of the stolen money. Lepper is alleged to have taken the money from the desk of Col. Taudt, the chief of the German commission, which has offices in the Avenue Givard.

Magnified view showing how "SANITAPE" individually surrounds each Tablet

"It Protects You"

THE unusually prompt, safe action of "Acco Genuine Aspirin" is caused by simple obedience to one of the most necessary sanitary rules known to commonsense people—that FRESHNESS is essential to PURITY, and that anything intended to be taken into the human stomach keeps fresh only when kept covered.

"Acco Genuine Aspirin" Tablets stay fresh and pure indefinitely. The wonderful "SANITAPE" packing surrounds each tablet with an individual airtight, moisture-proof jacket. Freshness can't escape. Impurities can't get in. Consequently, dangerous chemical changes cannot take place and results are secured without injury to stomach or heart.

No tablet is uncovered until actually used. To take, you tear off those you need and squeeze each one from its waxed paper jacket into your mouth. Even your own fingers do not touch tablets. A handy strip of several can be detached and carried in pocket or handbag without spilling, soiling, crumbling or spoiling.

Nothing can equal this in convenience and effectiveness.

WHEAT FUTURES UNDER $2 MARK IN ST. LOUIS

Drastic cutting of prices took place in the wheat market on the Merchants' Exchange today. December wheat fell more than 11 cents and March about 10 cents. Corn also was weak and sharply lower. Oats, likewise, were down.

All future deliveries of wheat dropped below $2 a bushel for the first time since the withdrawal of the Government guarantee of a minimum price. Export call appeared to be very slow, and domestic demand was also more or less at a standstill.

Cash wheat sold off 7c to 10c and cash corn broke 10c to 5c a bushel. The bearish feeling prevailed to the end of the session.

Wheat futures sold under $2 for the first time since the resumption of trading in these options last summer, when during the forward of the season today both December and May wheat got under the above mentioned basis. There was a reaction from the low point on covering by shorts.

The general feeling in the market at the outset of the new week was decidedly bearish. Corn values also showed material loss in the early trading. The weather was favorable for corn. Talk of anticipated heavy Winnipeg receipts was used by the bears in the wheat market. Oats showed only fractional change. The reduction in price of other commodities has created a feeling among the grain trade that prevents the latter from taking hold of the buying side of the market.

COTTON BREAKS ON PUBLICATION OF CROP REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The cotton market was irregular during today's early trading. A good part of the business was attributed to earlier reports of the Government's crop report and this included scattering liquidation of cotton futures contracts. The opening was steady at an advance of 3 to 5 cents over the previous day's closing. The market was active for Liverpool and Southern cotton, which was sold at 21.00 after the call, or back to within a few points of Saturday's closing. The market was active for the first time since the publication of the first hour's trading, and the market was active for the first time since the publication of the first hour's trading, and the market was active for the first time since the publication of the first hour's trading.

The census report showing 2,200,000 bales of cotton picked in 1919 was without immediate effect on the market, but prices broke very sharply after the publication of the Government's crop report. The condition of the market was active for the first time since the publication of the first hour's trading, and the market was active for the first time since the publication of the first hour's trading, and the market was active for the first time since the publication of the first hour's trading.

There was covering enough to check the rise in the market, and the market was active for the first time since the publication of the first hour's trading, and the market was active for the first time since the publication of the first hour's trading, and the market was active for the first time since the publication of the first hour's trading.

Just how safe is the 7% dividend on Union Electric preferred stock?

Well, here is Union Electric's record of NET INCOME—dividend earnings—for a dozen years past:

Year 1909	$ 69,842.49
Year 1910	748,378.12
Year 1911	798,738.99
Year 1912	521,181.17
Year 1913	896,371.62
Year 1914	767,665.78
Year 1915	627,872.22
Year 1916	522,909.60
Year 1917	606,478.95
Year 1918	612,982.40
Year 1919	558,014.49
Year 1920 (9 mos.)	1,125,234.55
Year 1920 (9 mos.)	682,692.22

Net income needed to pay 7% on $2,000,000 of preferred stock, outstanding and on sale, $210,000 a year; ratio of net income to preferred dividend at this time, over 6 to 1.

Another safety factor: Union Electric is able to earn regular dividends selling first-class service at low rates because the Company is honestly capitalized; there is no water in our securities.

Still another safety factor: Union Electric possesses, deeply appreciated and zealously guarded the good will of the great community it serves—good will earned by voluntarily reducing rates and improving service every year so long as rate reductions were possible, and by never asking for rate increases until increasing production costs made them absolutely necessary.

Cheap electric power for industries is one of the big factors in bringing new factories into the St. Louis district. When you invest your savings in Union Electric preferred you make sure of a regular and dependable 7 per cent income, and you become an active booster of Greater St. Louis' industrial growth.

PRICE: $100 a share for cash; $102 on a ten-payment plan, under which you draw FIVE PER CENT INTEREST ON INSTALLMENT PAYMENTS, and can withdraw all payments, WITH INTEREST, any time before final payment is made. You pay $10.20 per share cash down, and $10.20 per share monthly, with electric bills, for nine months. When last payment is made, you get your shares, and begin drawing 7% dividends—THE SAFEST 7% DIVIDENDS IN MISSOURI.

COURSE SELECTED FOR PULITZER PLANE RACE

Start Will Be From Mitchell Field; $5000 Thanksgiving Day Contest Prize.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Members of the Contest Committee of the Aero club of America, under whose direction a speed airplane race will be held Thanksgiving day for the Pulitzer $5000 trophy, yesterday selected the course for the contest.

Col. B. F. Castle, chairman of the committee, accompanied by Edward McDonnell, William Larned and H. S. Brown, went to Mitcha. Field, Hempstead, yesterday morning and entered an airplane for an inspection of the country. The air was fortunately favorable to visibility. Upon return to Mitchell Field announcement was made that a closed circuit of 40 miles had been agreed upon.

The start will be from Mitchell Field. From there the course lies southeastward, above Wantagh, Massapequa, Amityville, Babylon, swinging north to Colonial Springs and Central Park and returning westward to Mitchell Field.

Four laps of this circuit will constitute a race, a total of 160 miles. The course has the advantage that at all times good landing may be made from 1500 feet in event of trouble, while from the viewpoint of the spectator no terrain in the country offers superior vantage points.

Central Park for Landing.
Central Park has a well-kept flying field, large enough for landing at high speed, and there are many natural fields on the circuit. These factors will add materially to the safety of the flyers.

The air course covers in part the course of the immensely popular Vanderbilt cup race, and the Pulitzer trophy race, occurring as it does on a holiday and offering the first opportunity of seeing really high speed American planes competing with one another, is expected to approach in drawing power those classics of the automobile.

Special pains will be taken to enable spectators to keep tabs understandingly on the race. Just what markers the competing planes will carry has not been announced, but it has been promised that there will be no difficulty if the contest committee can help it in distinguishing the machines and discerning their positions in the race.

Mitchell Field, as the place for the take-off and the landing, will be the favored spot, but from almost any other place along the route the race may be followed for the greater part of the course. It is expected that arrangements will be made so that all who desire may find standing room and automobile parking space on Mitchell Field.

Advantage Over Bennett Race.
In one respect, the surfacing of the field, the Pulitzer trophy contest will offer a marked advantage over the Gordon Bennett cup race, won last week by Leconte, the French flyer, at Etampes, France. The French flying field was so rough as to make speed landing absolutely dangerous, and until detailed reports dissipate suspicion, it will be believed here that this condition had much to do with the poor showing of the Americans.

Planes entered from this country for the Gordon Bennett cup are expected to be back in time to take part in the Pulitzer trophy contest. They are known to be capable of 180 miles an hour or better, so that it is expected the race from Mitchell Field will be finished well within the hour.

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablet called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old-style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.

LIQUOR IS TRANSPORTED IN HEARSE IN NEW YORK

Chauffeurs Lift Lid of Casket, Covered With Flowers, Flings Bottle of Whisky.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Federal prohibition enforcement agents were reported yesterday to have sent out an alarm to try to catch the driver of an automobile hearse which, according to railroad employees in Harmon, N. Y., has been carrying liquor through that section. For several weeks troopers of the State constabulary have been searching automobiles in Harmon, Croton and nearby places. The result is that several loads of liquor were seized. The traffickers have resorted to all sorts of tricks to move the liquor up-state.

Famous German Composer Dead.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BERLIN, Oct. 4.—Prof. Max Bruch, the famous composer, died at his home here early yesterday morning, aged 82. An ardent nationalist, patriot and hard-shelled monarchist, the octogenarian was crushed by the loss of the war and the revolution which brought the republic, but he recovered sufficiently to compose two quintettes and one octette for strings last year, his last published work.

Canal Tolls in Month, $1,000,000.
PANAMA, Oct. 4.—During the month of September tolls exceeding $1,000,000 were collected from ships using the Panama Canal. For more than six years the canal authorities have been hoping to reach this monthly income.

UNCLE ETHAN RIPLEY by HAMLIN GARLAND...

SECOND INSTALLMENT.

UNCLE ETHAN turned the two cases up and set them down on the floor of the kitchen. Mrs. Ripley opened a bottle and smelled of the cautious cat.

"High! Merciful sakes, what stuff! It ain't fit a hog to take. What'd you think you was doin' with it?" she asked in poignant disgust.

"Expected to take it—if I was sick. Whaddy you say?" He defiantly stood his ground, towering above her like a leaning tower.

"The hull cartload of it?"

"No. I'm going to sell part of it an' get me an' me!"

"Sell it?" she shouted. "Nobuddy'll buy that stuff but an old numbskull like you. That that slop out o' the kitchen minute? Take it down to the sink-hole an' smash every bottle on the stones."

Uncle Ethan and the cases of medicine disappeared, and the old woman addressed her commanding remarks to little Tewksbury, her grandchild, who stood timidly on one leg in the doorway, an intruding pullet.

"Everything around this place 'ud go to rack and ruin if I didn't keep a watch on that soft-headed old dummy. I thought that lightnin'-rod man had give him a lesson he'd remember, but he must go and make a reg'lar."

She subsided in a tumult of banging pans, which helped her out in the matter of expression and returned her to a grim sort of quiet. Uncle Ethan went about the house like a convict on shipboard, ears caught him looking out of the window.

"I should think you'd feel proud o' that," Uncle Ethan had never been sick a day in his life. He was bent and bruised with never-ending work, but he had nothing especial the matter with him.

He did not smash the medicine, as Mrs. Ripley commanded, because he had determined to sell it. The next Sunday morning, after his chores were done, he put on his best coat of faded diagonal.

and was brushing his hair in a ridge across the center of his high, narrow head, when Mrs. Ripley came in from feeding the calves.

"Where are you goin' now?"

"None o' your business," he replied. "It's darn funny if I can't stir without you wantin' to know all about it. Where's Tewky?"

"Feedin' the chickens. You ain't goin' to take him off this mornin', now! I don't care where you go."

"Who's a-goin' to take him off? I ain't said nothin' about takin' him off."

"Waal take y'rself off, an' if y' ain't here f'r dinner, I ain't goin' to get no supper."

Ripley took a water pail and put four bottles of "the bitter" into it, and trudged away up the road with it in a pleasant glow of hope. All nature seemed to declare the day a time of rest, and invited men to dissociate ideas of toil from the rustling green wheat, shining grass and tossing blooms.

Something of the sweetness and buoyancy of all nature permeated the old man's work-called body, and he whistled little snatches of the dance tunes he played on his fiddle.

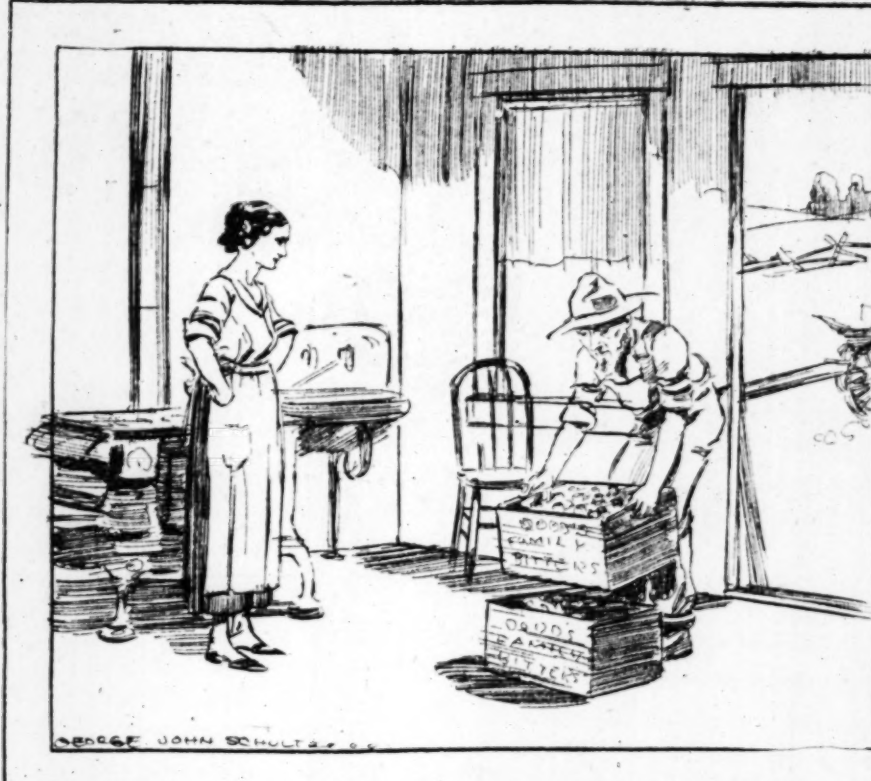

But he found neighbor Johnson to be supplied with another variety of bitter, which was all he needed for the present. He qualified his refusal to buy with a cordial invitation to go out see his shotes, in which he took infinite pride. But Uncle Ripley said: "I guess I'll haf t' be goin'."

He couldn't help feeling a little depressed when he found Jennings away. The next house on the pleasant lane with inhabited by a "newcomer." He was sitting on the horse trough, holding a horse's halter, while his hired man dashed cold water upon the galled spot on the animal's shoulder.

After some preliminary talk Ripley presented his medicine.

"Hell, no! What do I want of such stuff? When they's anything the matter with me, I take a hunkin' of swag of popple-bark and bourbon. That fixes me."

Uncle Ethan moved up the lane. He hardly felt like whistling now. At the next house he set his pail down in the weeds beside the fence, and went in without it. Doudney came to the door in his bare feet, buttoning his suspenders over a clean boiled shirt. He was dressing to go out.

"I thought that lightnin'-rod man had give you a lesson."

That fixes me."

Uncle Ethan moved up the lane. He hardly felt like whistling now. At the next house he set his pail down in the weeds beside the fence, and went in without it. Doudney came to the door in his bare feet, buttoning his suspenders over a clean boiled shirt. He was dressing to go out.

"Hello, Ripley! I was just goin' down your way. Jest wait a minute an' I'll be out."

When he came out fully dressed, Uncle Ethan grappled him.

"Say, what do you think o' payment med?"

"Some of 'em are boss. But y' want t' know what y'r gittin'."

"What d'ye think o' Dodd's?"

"Best in the market."

Uncle Ethan straightened up and his face lighted. Doudney went on:

"Yes, sir; best bitter that ever went into a bottle. I know; I've tried it. I don't go much on patent medicines, but when I get a good one—"

"Don't want t' buy a bottle?"

Doudney turned and faced him.

"Buy! No. I've got 19 bottles I want to sell!"

Ripley glanced up at Doudney's new granary and there read: "Dodd's Family Bitters." He was stricken dumb. Doudney saw it all and roared.

"Waal, that's a good one! We two tryin' to sell each other bitters. Ho—ho—ho—har, whoop! Waal, this is rich! How many bottles did you git?"

"None o' your business," said Uncle Ethan, as he turned and made off, while Doudney screamed with merriment.

On his way home Uncle Ethan grew ashamed of his burden. Doudney had canvassed the whole neighborhood, and he practically gave up the struggle. Everybody he met seemed determined to find out what he had been doing, and at last he began lying about it.

"Hello, Uncle Ripley, what y' got there in that pail?"

"Goose eggs f'r settin'."

He disposed of one bottle to old Gus Peterson. Gus never paid his debts, and he would only promise 50 cents "on tick" for the bottle, and yet so desperate was Ripley that this quasi sale cheered him up not a little.

As he came down the road, tired, dusty and hungry, he climbed over the fence in order to avoid seeing that sign on the barn, and slunk into the house without looking back.

He couldn't have felt meaner about it if he had allowed a Democratic poster to be pasted there.

The evening passed in grim silence, and in sleep he saw that sign wriggling across the side of the barn like a box constrictor hung on rails.

He tried to paint them out, but every time he tried it the man seemed to come back with a Sheriff, and savagely warned him to let it stay.

till the year was up. In some mysterious way the agent seemed to know every time he brought out the paint pot, and he was no longer the pleasant-voiced individual who drove the calico ponies.

As he stepped out into the yard next morning that abominable, sickening, scrawling advertisement was the first thing that claimed his glance—it blotted out the beauty of the morning.

Mrs. Ripley came to the window, buttoning her dress at her throat, a wisp of her hair sticking as servilely from the little knob at the back of her head.

"Lovely, ain't it! An' I've got to see it all day long. I can't look out the window but that thing's right in my face." It seemed to make her savage. She hadn't been in such a temper since her visit to New York. "I hope you feel satisfied with it."

Ripley walked off to the barn. His pride in its clean, sweet newness was gone. He slyly tried the paint to see if it couldn't be scraped off, but it was dried in thoroughly. Whereas, before, he had taken delight in having his neighbors turn and look at the building, now he kept out of sight whenever he saw a team coming. He hoed corn away in the back of the field, when he could have been bugging potatoes by the roadside.

Delilah in 1920 Vamp Dress Lures U.S. Samson to Ruin

Philadelphia's Leading Rabbi Scores the Undress of Women of Today, and Declares That Marriage Is Becoming but a Prelude to Divorce.

By MARGUERITE MOORE MARSHALL.

SHALL.

THAT the United States, another Samson, is about to fall victim to Modern Depravity, a new Delilah, that grandmothers and granddaughters alike indulge in shocking indecencies without a blush; that dramas of nakedness are corrupting our youth; that dances of today are utterly vulgar; that divorce threatens to abolish marriage altogether—these are a few of the flaming oral thunderbolts just hurled at his devoted congregation and the country at large by Rabbi Joseph Krauskopf, D. D., in his New Year's sermon at Temple Keneseth Israel.

The dean of Philadelphia's spiritual guides in his particular faith, and for 33 years associated with Temple Keneseth Israel, he has a record for using "vaseel words" in his eloquent attacks on the condition of modern society.

In one blistering paragraph he summed up this condition as he sees it.

"Turn where you may," he said, "and you hear reports of sins and vices, of corruptions and crimes, the like of which have never been heard of in our land. Turn where you may and you find the truth, that whenever and wherever a people turn its back on God it sets its face straight toward the devil, that whenever and wherever a people substitutes the worship of gold for that of God and makes indulgence of animal lusts its ruling passion, its decadence has set in and its day of ruin is not far distant."

And the modern woman—do you hear her at least partially responsible for this state of affairs?" I asked.

"Go among the women of society," answered Rabbi Krauskopf. "See their luxuries and extravagances, their brazen speed in search of diversions, excitement, novelties; their slavish and costly submission to the tyrant Fashion; hear of their sacrifices of domesticity, of maternity, of modesty, even of virtue, in the hope of securing a happiness, which despite all their racing and seeking and cooing and masquerading and squandering and sinning refuses to come."

Poor old Philadelphia, I reflected, must be waking up! But of course I didn't say it aloud.

This is nowhere near all of Rabbi Krauskopf's indictment of the women of today. He submits other items, which recall the remarks Katherine Fullerton Gerould, writing in the Atlantic Monthly, puts into the mouth of the modern girl—"Men," that young person excuses herself, "won't dance with you if you wear a corset."

The rabbi calls this naive admission with his tale of "a young girl, scarcely out of her teens, who in answer to a question as to how she liked a certain play, said: 'I enjoyed it immensely, but it was not quite the sort of play to which I would like to take my mother.'"

"It is to be wondered at," he continued, "that rouses, instead of repelling young women, even attract them; that marriage is regarded but as a prelude to divorce, and that the raising of a family is regarded as old-fashioned, obsolete, even vulgar."

"With every day more and more we hear of goings on that cannot but make the true lover of our country tremble for its future. Think of the social sins and moral corruptions, of the shocking indecencies unblushingly indulged in by ever-increasing numbers of our women, some of them scarcely out of their teens, others in their grandmotherly state.

"Think of the styles of dress—of undress—that at one time constituted the costumes of women who were rigidly excluded from decent society, and which costumes were looked on as the very badge of their iniquitous trade, but which styles nowadays are adopted by women who believe themselves to be the very cream of society, and who adopt these styles for reasons not very different from those for which they are adopted by professional courtesans.

"Think of the abbreviated bathing suits openly indulged in by men and women on the Pacific Coast, which expose fully one-half of the naked body, and which seem to be used, for the most part, for purposes of lolling and rolling in common upon the beach."

"Think of the lengthy hiking expeditions that have become very popular in the Far West, during which unchaperoned young men and young women, in their garb, in their attire, make their loving indiscretions in the open, whenever and wherever night overtakes them."

After that, however, he came nearer home.

"Think of young women racing with young men as to who can smoke the larger number of cigarettes, or racing with one another as to which of them can deport herself more vulgarly."

Think of the questionable places which young women of so-called good households are allowed to frequent, unchaperoned and far into the night. Think of the young women who have gone into the country, and long after midnight, and who regale themselves with strong drink, purloined from the cellars of their fathers. Think of the general disregard of parental authority, of the loss of reverence for age.

"Think of some of the modern dances that stop short of nothing in point of vulgarity."

"Think of the divorces, whose numbers are increasing before long the number of marriages, if not ultimately, to displace with marriage altogether and to substitute concubinage in its place."

Think of some of the plays that are being presented upon the public stage, and applauded to the echo by vast audiences, plays so bold and bald in plot, so unbalanced in expression, so devoid of all moral and indecent in act and language that they cannot but corrupt the body, mind and soul of our young, cannot but rob womanhood of that aura and mystery which has constituted its greatest charm and glory, that cannot but undermine the purity of the home, the chastity of family life, the shield and defense of domestic virtue."

And for the Savoraria of Philadelphia, there is "little doubt as to what, in time, becomes of a people that substitutes gold for God, movies and theaters and dance halls for places of worship, the maddest excesses of the jazz band for the uplifting sounds of the organ, the ribald song and smutty joke for song and prayer; what becomes of a people that confers upon heroes and heroines of the film or stage, some of whom are fairly reeking with moral filth, the honor which, at one time,

BABY'S SOCKS.

THE best footwear for a baby during the first few months is socks that come above the knee.

They should be long enough to be pinned easily to the diaper with a medium-sized safety pin. They should be knitted of soft white wool, two-ply or No. 9 needle, fancy patterns are available, but an easy sock to knit, and a very convenient one to put on, is made in the spiral stitch without a heel. It fits well, and slips on with no bother about back and front, and of course wears evenly all over.

Directions for knitting these spiral socks are: Knit an inch of top, knit two purl two, with 16 stitches on each needle; then to begin the spiral, knit three, purl one, for three rows; at the fourth row knit four, purl one, knit three, purl one, and continue knitting three, purling one, for three rows again. Thus you move the group of four stitches, three knit and one purl, around the sock one stitch at the beginning of every fourth row. Make the sock 11 inches long; then knit plain for one row, narrow by slipping every fourth stitch; knit three rows; narrow at every third stitch, knit two rows, narrow at every second stitch, and so on until you have eight stitches on each of two needles. Finish with Kitchener toe, as follows: Purl the first stitch on the front needle and slip it off; purl the second, but keep it on the needle; knit the first stitch of the back row, and slip it off; knit the second stitch, but keep it on; purl the next stitch of the front and slip it off; purl the second and keep it on; knit the next stitch of the back row, slip it off, and so on alternating until all the stitches are off and the toe is finished smooth.

Metropolitan Corn Gums

STIR together 1/2 cupful corn meal, 2 tablespoonfuls sugar, 2 tablespoonfuls butter and 2 eggs. Add 1/2 pint milk with 1 teaspoonful soda dissolved in it. Add 1 cupful sifted wheat flour and stir well. Pour into deep pan, well greased and heated and bake in a hot oven.

was bestowed on holy men and women.

"You will remember," he concluded, "the causes which in former days led to the decline and fall of mighty nations, and bearing in mind that like causes produce like results, you will have little doubt as to the fate that awaits our nation, though it glows among nations, unless we speedily and thoroughly change our course. Ever-increasing numbers of our people are following the seducing strains of every form of moral depravity. In their embrace, like Samson, we will be shorn of our strength, made a slave and sport of our enemies."

An Individual Frock for the Young Miss

EVERY little miss has a natural penchant for pretty clothes, and when so much of the young girl's time is spent in the schoolroom her school clothes should not lack those attributes of style and becomingness which make her feel their charm. Aside from the reason that the cultivation of one's taste in the selection of clothes comes through being stylishly and becomingly attired during one's youthful days, there is considerable psychology in dressing the school girl in a way that pleases her and expresses her individuality. To be at ease with one's self is a safe assurance of an easy and gracious mental digestion.

The design I am offering is an excellent reason why a school frock need not be commonplace. It incorporates the necessary qualities of practicality and simplicity while evincing an unusual quality of distinction.

Lightweight serge or a silk and woolen mixture would be a suitable medium for developing this model whose trim little bodice cuts up in an unusual manner at the lower edge, which requires the stern guardianship of a band of satin, or taffeta, or silk braid. From under it the straight medium full skirt is gathered, with nothing to relieve its plainness but two very tiny tucks placed at equal intervals, which suggest a cording or a seam.

The rather high round neck affords opportunity for a dainty net and lace collar, and the three-quarter sleeves, though cuffed, add also the airy touch of net as tiny under-cuffs. This would be pretty in taffeta as well as velveteen.

Reflections of a Bachelor Girl

BY HELEN ROWLAND

THERE are two kinds of "late husbands"—the slow and the dead.

When a man and a girl profess to have an "understanding," it usually means that the man understands that the girl will marry him, if he ever decides to ask her.

After a time, "falling in love" becomes such a matter of habit with some men that no matter how often they "fall," they never receive a permanent injury—like marriage.

You can melt a man's heart, as you can melt iron, as long as the flame is there; but once his love has cooled, nothing on earth will soften it—but another flame.

Nowadays you can gauge the depth of a girl's mind merely by asking her whether she regards a husband as a blessing, a necessity, a luxury, an affliction, a joke, or an opportunity.

Life does not become actually dull to any man, until he loses his last ounce of curiosity about women.

Even love is brighter if jeweled with constancy.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

BUSTER BEAR has run deep into the Green Forest. As long as he could hear the yells and laughter of Farmer Brown's boy, and for some time after, he had run. You see, being surprised in that Bear-tree by Farmer Brown's boy had thrown him into a panic. A panic, you know, is nothing but fright without reason. People in a panic do things without knowing what they are doing.

At last Buster stopped running. For one thing he was beginning to get out of breath. He was for a long time. Then, too, he could no longer hear the voice of Farmer Brown's boy or any other sound to show that he was being followed.

So Buster Bear stopped. He stood still, as still as a rock, looking, listening and testing the air with his keen nose. No, he wasn't being followed; that much was certain. Right then and there Buster came out of that panic. Anger took the place of fear. Yes, sir, that is what happened; anger took the place of fear. And minute by minute that anger increased.

In the first place, now that he had begun to think, Buster was angry because he had been so frightened and had run away. Some people are always made angry by being frightened, especially when there is no real cause for fear. This was the case with Buster Bear. He knew that he had run away from Farmer Brown's boy when he could just as well have made Farmer Brown's boy run from him.

In the second place, he was sore all over. When he had dropped from high up in that Bee-tree he received a terrible shaking up when he hit the ground. Then, in his headless flight, he had bumped, and bumped hard, into several trees, and each bump had left a bruise. Worse still were the stings from the Bees. The angry little fighters had stung him all over the head and paws. He had been stung in his ears, his nose and his mouth. Some of those Bees had worked their way down through his fur and stung him all over his body. Some of them were in his fur that very minute as a fresh sting on his back reminded him.

Buster growled savagely and tried to reach that Bee. He couldn't. A fresh sting in another place made him jump and snarl. Then he did the wisest thing he could have done; he laid down and rolled over and over on the ground. That crushed the Bees still in his coat and put an end to the chance of any more stings.

But it didn't end the smarting of the stings he already had received. Had he had that honey he wouldn't have minded those things. But he didn't have and hadn't had that honey, only an aggravating taste of it, and so he did mind those stings. He minded them more every minute.

And with all these smarting and aches outside, Buster was sore inside. He was sore at heart—sore because he had been given such a fright, and still more sore because he felt that he had been cheated out of that honey.

"That honey was mine," growled Buster in his deepest, ugliest voice, quite forgetting that Farmer Brown's boy had found it first and led him to it, and that, as a matter of fact, it didn't belong to either Farmer Brown's boy or himself, but to Busy Bee and her sisters, who had made it. That honey was mine, and if Farmer Brown's boy has taken it, he is a robber and I'll get even with him one of these days. Ouch!

How those stings smart! I must get some mud."

Growing, whining and sometimes snarling, and all the time getting into more and more of a rage, Buster Bear headed for the pond of Paddy the Beaver, which was not far from where he had stopped running. And if ever there was a Bear sore inside and out it was Buster Bear.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

TO A ROBIN.

Your chattering, times without number,
When hunting for worms on the lawn,
Aroused me from glorious slumber
An hour or two before dawn.
Yet not a hard thought did I harbor,
No bitter revenge did I seek,
I knew you were guarding my arbor
With that little beak.

The beetles that came to devour
The tender young shoots in the spring,
When the vines were beginning to flower,
Fled off at the whirr of your wing.
No aphids the petals dared wither,
You put their whole army to rout,
And busily yonder and hither
You fluttered about.

The slugs that appeared in the autumn,
The round purpling berries to munch,
Had hardly arrived when you caught 'em
And joyfully ate 'em for lunch.
Your vigilance, keen and unblinking,
I always delighted to see,
(Poor idiot!) blissfully thinking
It all was for me.

But now, you perfidious sinner,
My grapes have been plucked to provide
Not a dainty dessert for my dinner,
But a meal for your little inside.
Don't ask me for mercy or pardon,
You rascally lawless elf,
Your labor in guarding my garden
Was all for yourself!

Got His Reward.

A few miles from Dublin there lives a worthy who can never pass the village public house without "calling in just to inquire the time."

One night recently he made up his mind to pass by. It was very hard for him to do so, and at certain intervals he stood still and said, "Stand firm, resolution—stand firm."

After a hard struggle he gained a little bridge beyond the public house and, stopping again, was heard to say:

"Begorra, me bould resolution, but ye did stand firm, and for that same resolution I'll go back and trate ye!"

The salesperson: But those are not hope chests, miss. They're too small. They're for gloves. Those cedar boxes make nice hope chests. Miss Paschbier: I'll take one of the little ones. It's for my old maid aunt, and she has very little hope left. —Boston Post.

Love Among the Churches.

Dr. Lyman P. Powell gives some examples of the lengths to which petty bitterness between sects will sometimes carry men. "A visitor in a certain town which had four churches and adequately supported none, asked a pillar of one poor dying church, 'How's your church getting on?' 'Not very well,' was the reply, 'but, thank the Lord, the others are not doing any better.'"
